COUNCIL REFUSES KIMLIN'S TRAFFIC PLAN!

NEXT ANNUAL MEETING IN OAKLAND

Presbyterians Act on Film Shows, Japanese Bill, Cigarettes, Drugs

In the closing hours of the synod of California, which has been in session at the Glendale Presbyterian church since last Thursday, July 24, the delegates passed resolutions calling for world peace, deploring the passage of the Japanese exclusion, and urging the president of the United States to countermand the order of a general peace-time mobilization day September 12.

The delegates also selected Oakland as the meeting place for the 1925 synod, and left the dates of the next meeting to a committee on arrangements to be appointed later by Moderator G. A. Briegleb.

Another important resolution passed during the final hours pertained to moral welfare and reform, and a resolution authorizing the trustees of the synod to acquire property in Pasadena for a ministerial relief home, to cost $60,000.

Message to Coolidge

The resolution on peace, Japanese exclusion and mobilization day was read by Dr. W. H. Oxtoby of San Anselmo, Cal., chairman of the synod's committee on Christian education. Included in the resolution was the copy of a telegram the synod will send to President Coolidge, asking him to do all in his power to prevent the mobilization on September 12, on the grounds that it would cause the wrong impression to get abroad among other nations.

The resolution, which was adopted without a dissenting vote, follows:

"1 The synod of California requests its pastors and sessions to acquaint their congregations with the strong resolution adopted by the last general assembly, pledging the energies of our church to the outlawing of war. We believe that this tenth anniversary of the outbreak of the World War should be the occasion for recalling to the people of the United States their obligations for the preservation of the peace of the world.

"2 We agree with the president of the United States that the manner in which Congress passed the Japanese exclusion act was both unnecessary and deplorable, because inconsiderate of the sensibilities of a friendly nation. We pledge our sincere friendship to the church of Christ in Japan, with which we have had such happy relationship through our missionaries, and we assure our Japanese brethren, both in Japan and in this country, that in the application of the principles of Christ all our international difficulties can be solved.

"3 That this synod of California send to President Coolidge the following telegram:

"To the President of the United States:

"Inasmuch as it is reported the war department has set apart Friday, September 12, as a day

School System of State Scored as Result of Probe

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—Elimination of "cold statisticians" from the secondary schools of the state and the substitution of teachers who regard their pupils as "human" and not "objects" is one of the recommendations of a 400-page report of the committee of fifteen which has just completed a two years' investigation of the school system of the state, it was revealed here today. Complete reorganization is urged. The fact that high school students have too much time for which they give no accounting either at home or school is declared "a grave state of affairs."

FOG DELAYS AVIATORS' FLIGHT

American Around World Trip To Be Resumed Tomorrow, Weather Permitting

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.

ON BOARD U. S. DESTROYER RICHMOND, HOUTON, BAY, Off Scotland, Via Radio, July 31.—The flight of the United States army round-the-world aviators from the Orkney islands to Iceland, was postponed today on account of heavy fog. The flyers hope to take off tomorrow morning if weather conditions are favorable.

The destroyer Billingsley reported a heavy fog bank off the Faroe Islands in the direct line the aviators would have to travel to reach Iceland. This caused Lieutenant Smith to postpone hopping off until tomorrow.

The aviators spent the day viewing the wrecks of the German fleet which was sunk in Scapa Flow.

The distance from Kirkwall to Hornford, Iceland, the first stop, is about 500 miles. The United States destroyers, the Reid and Billingsley, are stationed between there and this port and the fliers will attempt to keep in communication by wireless. They also will carry carrier pigeons in case wireless communication fails.

FOREST FIRES CONTINUE TO RAGE

Adverse Winds and Great Quantity of Dry Brush Aid Roaring Flames

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—Forest fires which to date have claimed two lives, continued today to rage in California National forests and state lands, fanned to renewed fury in many cases by adverse winds and all fed by abnormally dry underbrush and timber.

So serious was the situation around Bautiste canyon in Cleveland National forest that U. S. District Supervisor Paul G. Redington prepared today to leave immediately to assume control of the hundreds of men now fighting the conflagration.

More than 8,000 acres have been totally destroyed in that locality today, a check-up revealed today and because of the unfavorable conditions control of it is not expected for some time.

Town Is Threatened

With a wall of flame on two sides and rapidly closing the gap on the third side the town of Floriston in the Truckee canyon, was reported deserted today as its 250 inhabitants fled before the advancing forest fires with their portable belongings. Only a fortunate change of wind was expected to save the 65 cottages making up the little paper mill town.

Forest fires were burning from the Klamath National forest on the north to the San Jacinto mountains on the south, according to reports to the United States forestry service.

BRYAN'S VIEW ENDORSED BY DAVIS

Candidate Says Expansion On Defense Day Is 'Entirely Sound'

By DAVID SENTNER
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, July 31.—John W. Davis, Democratic presidential candidate, arrived here this morning from the Maine woods, where he had spent an enjoyable twelve days' vacation, and prepared the preliminary draft of his speech of acceptance.

The candidate said he "felt fine," and he looked much better than when he left. He posed for photographers and was immediately whisked to the Murray Hill hotel, where he planned to confer with his political advisers.

Endorses Bryan's Views

Davis denied he was opposed to the adverse views on defense day expressed by Governor Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska, the vice presidential candidate.

"I am surprised at the statement I see in the press that I am in disagreement with him or that his action in any way has proven an embarrassment to me," said Mr. Davis.

"On the contrary, I think the view expressed by the governor of Nebraska to the effect that there is no necessity at this time to encourage civilians to leave their occupations for a purpose that would only be a military demonstration without any practical educational effect, is entirely sound."

Klan Issue Missing

Davis brought back to the city the preliminary draft of his acceptance speech, with an important section yet unwritten. It was understood that the missing portion was that dealing with the Klan issue.

Davis was to confer at length with Clem Shaver, his campaign manager, and other party leaders before setting to work on this delicate point. The main question to be decided, it was understood, was whether the reference to the hooded organization should be stronger than the party platform plank regarding religious liberty.

Klamath River Fish Initiative on Ballot

SACRAMENTO, July 31.—With the receipt of 31,000 signatures from Los Angeles, the initiative providing for a fish and game preserve on the Klamath river and prohibiting the erection of barriers across the river qualified for a place on the ballot with the largest number of signatures ever filed on an initiative measure in the secretary of state's office. The legal requirement is 77,800 signatures and the measure was far over that.

ATTEMPT SETTLEMENT

LOS ANGELES, July 31.—Representatives of Southern California fishermen and packers were in conference here today seeking to settle difficulties resulting in a walkout of 7500 men and tying up of more than 1200 fishing boats.

FIGHT LOOMS ON LABOR'S ATTITUDE

Endorsement of La Follette And Wheeler to Result In Strife, Belief

By KENNETH CLARK
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Endorsement of the La Follette-Wheeler independent presidential ticket will result from the meeting of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, opening in Atlantic City tomorrow, according to word reaching leaders of the Progressive party here today.

La Follette's managers refused to comment publicly on these informal advices, but in view of these reports from Atlantic City, where members of the executive council, including Samuel Gompers, veteran president of the federation, are now assembling, William H. Johnston, chairman of the "conference for progressive political action," and a member of the La Follette campaign committee, announced he would not attend the early sessions of the council's meetings as he had previously planned. He said, however, he would go to Atlantic City Monday or Tuesday to confer with the labor chiefs.

Important Question

The chief problem before the executive council at Atlantic City is whether endorsement shall be given to any of the presidential tickets, and the first two days of the sessions are expected to be devoted exclusively to this problem.

Gompers, in a formal statement issued from Atlantic City, has declared that organized labor will pursue its usual non-partisan course, but the executive council, it was learned here today, will analyze—from labor's viewpoint—the platforms of the three parties with a view to determining which of the platforms contains the "greatest hope for labor."

Anticipate Battle

The council then can commend to the consideration of the rank and file of the American Federation of Labor the outline of political principles which can be supported in the election.

A spirited fight in the executive council to prevent endorsement of the La Follette movement is freely predicted.

PLEA TO STOP ARREST FOR REVENUE FAILS

Other Members of Official Body Not In Favor of Plan as Outlined

A motion introduced by Councilman C. E. Kimlin this morning before the Glendale City Council, with a view to remedying the traffic situation, was lost for want of a second. The motion is in line with the sentiments expressed by Councilman Kimlin yesterday in an exclusive interview with a representative of The Glendale Evening News. It follows:

"I move that this council recommend to the police department that all traffic officers at all times remain in plain sight on the street being patrolled; and that no recommendation be made by the council to the police court regarding the method of punishing persons guilty of infractions of the California vehicle act."

Councilman S. S. Gilhuly hotly contested the motion, urging that Councilman Kimlin withdraw it.

"No one will second that motion," he declared. "We are all satisfied with the way the traffic situation is now being handled. We appointed a committee of representative citizens to look into the matter and make recommendations. They are working on the problem and we should not interfere with them."

Opinions Differ

"This motion does not interfere with the work of the Citizens' Traffic committee," countered Councilman Kimlin.

"It interferes with the way the situation is being handled by Chief John D. Fraser of the police department and by Judge Frank H. Lowe of the police court," Councilman Gilhuly replied. "Moreover, it does not represent the sentiments of the majority of the people of Glendale."

"I think you are mistaken about that, Mr. Councilman," came from Councilman Kimlin. "There are two sides to this question and I believe I am on the side of the majority of the people."

"Yes, we saw your interview last night in The Glendale Evening News," broke in Mayor Spencer Robinson.

"Mr. Mayor, I am dead against this motion and I think every councilman here with the exception of Councilman Kimlin will agree with me. Let's call for a second and settle the argument," said Gilhuly.

"Does anyone second Councilman Kimlin's motion?" demanded Mayor Robinson.

There was no answer.

"The motion is lost!" he said.

The only councilman absent from the meeting was Sam Davis, who is still out of the city. The motion was introduced by Councilman Kimlin just prior to adjournment, and after he had been urged by other members of the council not to introduce it.

Protection, Not Revenue

In his interview yesterday Councilman Kimlin stated in part:

"Motor officers should at all times have as their prime object the protection of life and property. Their aim should be to keep motorists out of trouble rather than to get them in trouble. They should patrol the streets while on duty and when they find it necessary to stop, should park parallel with the curb, in plain sight of the traffic."

In an executive session Tuesday morning with the Citizens' Traffic committee, the City Council heard from Councilman Kimlin along this line, numerous suggestions for the betterment of the local traffic situation being offered.

Advancement Association Opposes Plan To Move City Hall To Civic Center

Opposition to the acquisition of the Harvard High school grounds and buildings for a civic center site and city hall uses, and the recommendation that the Citizens' Bond committee consider a proposition to add to the present City hall building to meet the needs of more room, at a much lower cost, are contained in a resolution adopted today noon by the members of the Glendale Advancement association at the meeting held at the Harriett Mae Tea room.

The association is in favor of supplying schools to the northwest section of the city, and willing to vote bonds for that purpose, as well as endorsing any plan that will result in establishing small parks in various sections of the city.

To Bond Committee

The resolution, which will be presented to the Citizens' bond committee tonight by R. M. Brown, the association's representative, when the committee meets to consider the recommendations of various sub-committees and the amount of bonds suggested by each, follows:

In considering the proposed program of the various sub-committees of our General Committees on Bonds, in which they have recommended an increase in our bonded indebtedness of approximately $2,000,000, we wish to go on record as follows:

The tremendous growth of our city brings demands for certain improvements that must be made if we are to continue to grow, such as,

First—Schools.
Second—Water Resources.
Third—Fire Protection.
Fourth—Garbage Disposal.
Fifth—Adequate City Jail Accommodations.
Sixth—Bridges and Roads.

And we greatly favor any plan of establishing small parks in various sections of the city.

We appreciate the fact that the various propositions submitted by the sub-committees, together with our joint school board, have great merit, but if the people should carry out the recommendations according to the program, it would amount to a total increased bonded indebtedness of about $3,000,000, or, in other words, an increase over the present bonded indebtedness of 70 per cent.

We cannot overlook the fact that the northwest section must be supplied with better schools, and we will favor voting bonds for that purpose.

And we further recommend that the general bond committee consider a proposition to add to our present City Hall, and that such a proposition be placed on the ballot.

The association also instructed the secretary to draft a resolution in favor of Los Angeles county bearing its share of expenses of putting in a bridge on Glendale boulevard, near Ivanhoe, on the south side of the tracks, making a double bridge.

A letter will be sent by the secretary of the association to the Glendale & Montrose Railroad company, asking for busses on Lexington drive and to serve the northeastern part of the city.

Members of the association present at the meeting today were: President, C. W. Ingledue; secretary, Herman Nelson; Elwood Ingledue, J. F. Chandler, R. M. Brown, L. Sipple, Charles Fisher, F. L. Fox, Mrs. M. L. Tight and Mrs. Emma Burket.

Legal Argument Deadlocks Trial Of Loeb And Leopold

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
For International News Service.

CHICAGO, July 31.—The legal battle over whether alienists are to be permitted to testify that Nathan Leopold, Jr., and "Dicky" Loeb are afflicted with "functionally mental diseases," even though not insane, waxed hotter and hotter in Judge John R. Caverly's court today, where the blithe young collegians are on trial for their lives, for the kidnaping and slaying of little Bobby Franks.

Several times Judge Caverly indicated that he was tired of the argument, and that he was not going to change his decision that the psychiatrists should be allowed to give their testimony "for what it is worth," but the state's attorneys continued, doggedly and persistently, to prove to him by precedents and authorities, that his decision was wrong and unprecedented.

When court adjourned at 12:30 for the luncheon recess, the argument was still going strong, but the state said they would conclude shortly after the recess with a short summary of the state's contention.

MAKE PLANS FOR ANNUAL FESTIVAL

Executive Committee Busy On Arrangements for Coming Event

EAGLE ROCK, July 31.—The executive committee of the Eagle Rock Parent-Teacher Association is already at work perfecting plans for the third annual Harvest Home Festival, scheduled for October 10 and 11. The following are the officers and members of the executive committee of the Parent-Teachers' Association:

President, Mrs. J. C. Reiter; first vice-president, Mrs. G. E. Arbogast; second vice-president, Mrs. Ann Harrison; third vice-president, Mrs. R. J. Lippold; recording secretary, Mrs. Paul Revert; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Humphrey Marshall; historian, Mrs. Edith Parker; parliamentarian, Mrs. C. D. Wentworth.

The headliner of the big show will naturally be the pageant. This will be staged no less than five times, thus giving everyone an opportunity to see it. Considering the excellence of last year's effort, this year's pageant should be a real credit to the community. Those who are particularly interested in the hour of the supper will be happy to know that it will be around twilight on the Saturday of the festival days.

Decorate Booths

There will be the regular bazaars and booths, laden with useful and pretty things for sale. The little fairy lights, with their weird goofy faces, will shine with the silvery moon. Boys and girls, in gorgeous colors, will romp and laugh and frolic. There will be the usual games that the kiddies enjoy, and likely racing, jumping and sports. The school grounds will be handsomely decorated.

Being the first to organize a parade in Eagle Rock the association is of course arranging for a regular beating of drums this year. The parade will take the usual route and the committee looks for all and sundry to get in on the joy wagons.

Another pet canine has been added to the list of poisoned dogs in Eagle Rock. J. Mendoza of 1616 Fair Park avenue, reported that he found his dog poisoned.

It's Cool In Glendale
Plant Shade Trees
Chance To Organize
Better Citizenship

—By Gil A. Cowan—

People in Glendale thought it was warm here yesterday, perhaps.

They only thought so. Had they accompanied the writer to Corona, Elsinore, Fullerton and other towns less favored by the hills than Glendale they would have realized it WAS hot there and comparatively cool here.

The sea breeze which waits over this section in the afternoon, the shadows of Hollywood hills at eventide, the many beautiful trees which man has planted for shade—all combine to make this a most pleasant place to live.

Out in the exposed valleys the heat is noticeable, or in the stuffy lanes of downtown office buildings, but not here and elsewhere man's work and nature herself combine to make it cool.

More trees should be planted in Glendale. Not at this season of the year, of course, but when time comes to set out the parking include shade trees. What boon companions they are to the weary wayfarer.

And the birds will come and nest in those trees to sing pretty music the live-long day and in the fall the leaves will drop like light rainfall to earth and provide good material for aromatic bonfires.

Books have been written about trees, poems have been devoted to the subject and our comment is only an apology—and a wish that Glendale be noted for its trees.

Having organized about everything, it is high time the talents of the professional organizers of the country were turned to something useful, say the betterment of the youth without inflicting further expense on fathers.

While the tone is different than the foregoing facetious comment, the Pasadena Star-News editor holds forth something along the same idea as follows:

In this age of extensive and intensive organization, the organizing of the boys and girls of the land, for advancement and for development of character along right lines, is of very great importance. There are many religious organizations of young people, numbering millions in their total membership. Then there are such organizations as the Young Men's Christian Association, the Young Women's Christian Association, the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, and others which, while not connected directly with churches, yet are imbued with the religious spirit.

It is well indeed to have the young folk of this nation banded together for their own good and for the good of the community. It augurs better citizenship for the country. It means that the good fruits and influences of this intensively organized effort will be felt in the oncoming generation, in the splendid character of those who are to become the responsible men and women of the generation now in embryo. Organization is coming more and more into life of the people. One contacts it in almost every relation in life—social, political, economic, religious. It is a good thing.

MILITIA MEN TO LEAVE FOR CAMP

Soldiers Will Hold Formal Retreat Friday Night Before Training

BURBANK, July 31.—Company I of the state militia will stage what is termed "a formal retreat" tomorrow night, August 1, from the Thomas A. Edison school. The retreat will precede their two-week encampment at Del Monte.

About fifty-five or sixty privates and three officers will be in line and will march to the inspiring strains from the Burbank Municipal band to the Southern Pacific station, where they will embark on one of the troop trains for the encampment.

Captain Tillson has requested that the merchants who have the Legion flags in their possession kindly place the same in their proper positions on the street in honor of the men.

The encampment grounds are being put in condition for the encampment. Lieut. Lang is already at Del Monte superintending the quarters for company I and three privates are assisting him, the men being Davis, Gooding and Colgan.

Start Vacations

President-elect of Mexico Denies Plan to Study Communism Abroad

NOGALES, Ariz., July 31.—Declaring that he is going to Europe "merely for a vacation," General Plutario Elias Calles, president-elect of Mexico denied here in an interview with International News Service that he intended to study communistic forms of government while abroad.

"I plan to follow during my administration the policies of President Obregon.

"I will work for better conditions for the working classes in Mexico, and I want to see better school systems in my country."

Friend of America

Calles showed great friendship for the United States. He said:

"Friendship with Americans is essential, I believe, for Mexico's prosperity. I want friendly relations between the two countries to be increased, and I will always strive to fully protect American settlers and visitors in Mexico.

"Expansion of Mexico's industries and commerce depends a good deal on the attitude of Americans. I realize this, of course."

General Calles left here for Hermosillo, capital of the state of Sonora, Mexico. He expects to return here in several days and depart for New York, from which port he will sail for Europe.

Railway Merger Seen As Capitalists Meet

NEW YORK, July 31.—O. P. Van Sweringen, young Cleveland railroad magnate, and George S. Baker, chairman of the board of the First National bank, held a conference yesterday afternoon which was interpreted in financial circles as bearing on Van Sweringen's plans for merging the Erie with the Nickel Plate, the Pere Marquette and the Chesapeake & Ohio lines.

Airships can travel from Bombay, India, to London in three and one-half days.

VETERANS MOURN COMRADE'S DEATH

Resolution of G. A. R. Post Pays Glowing Tribute To J. R. S. Danner

The following resolutions have been adopted by the members of N. P. Banks post, G. A. R., as a tribute to the memory of J. R. S. Danner, who died on July 7, 1924, at San Pedro.

Glendale, Calif.,
July, 1924.

In Memory of Comrade J. R. S. Danner of Company D, 24th Missouri Infantry.

In recording the fact of the departure of Comrade Danner we are made to feel a real loss that we have sustained as a Company of Civil War Veterans. Thus, one by one, our ranks are thinning, "Taps" are being sounded and we are left wondering who will be the next to answer the call to appear before the Great White Throne to hear the Commander say, as we trust, "You have fought a good fight and have kept the faith, enter into the joy of thy Lord."

Comrade Danner was a good man; he was a brave defender of his country's honor. Never did he shrink from duty in the midst of greatest peril. He is entitled to be remembered as one of the truest, the bravest and the best of our royal host of defenders of our glorious flag.

(I)—Resolved, That we hold sacred in memory our beloved Comrade and seek to emulate his exalted virtues.

(II)—Resolved, That we herein do express the sacredness and value of our comradeship and seek to be true to our every obligation as comrades.

(III)—Resolved, That the high moral worth of Comrade Danner appeals to us and we will, like him, seek to meet all the obligations of our relationships to all.

(IV)—Resolved, That our deepest and truest sympathy is extended to the family of our deceased Comrade and that a copy of these resolutions be presented to them and be placed on the Journal of our Post.

NEW POSTOFFICE STATION OPENED

Roberts & Echols Store Is Selected as Location Of Latest Branch

A new sub-station of the Glendale postoffice was opened in the Roberts & Echols drug store at the corner of Brand boulevard and East Broadway yesterday, with Frank Echols as the clerk in charge. This sub-station takes the place of that which has up till now been located at 616 East Broadway, and Mrs. M. E. Myton, who has been in charge there, will devote her attention exclusively to her real estate business, it is stated.

All postoffice business, with the exception of postal savings, foreign money orders and foreign parcels post packages, will be handled in the new sub-station, and the central location of it is regarded by the postoffice officials as offering improved postal facilities to the people of Glendale.

General Business Situation In Southland Good, Says Banker On Visit To City

There is nothing fundamentally wrong with business conditions in this section. This declaration was made today by Edward Elliott, vice president of the Security Trust & Savings bank of Los Angeles, a visitor to Glendale for the purpose of calling on R. F. Kitterman, vice president and manager of the bank's Glendale branch at Brand and Broadway. The general business situation in the Southland is good, asserted Mr. Elliott.

Mr. Elliott stated emphatically that Southern California is not suffering from any serious business depression and back of the statement stood the research and the knowledge of one of the outstanding banking institutions of the west.

Back To Normal

Mr. Elliott said that the people of Southern California have enjoyed such unusual prosperity during recent years and business activity has been at such a high level that a return to what may properly be regarded as normal is the occasion for an unfounded impression that business is bad. Our judgment as to all business conditions is relative he said and by comparison with the feverish activity of 1923, present business is slow. On the other hand, by comparison with normal activity it is very good he claimed.

The Security banker told of having met a New York banker of considerable prominence while in the east last May, who seriously believed the ridiculous tale that 100,000 motorists were stranded in Los Angeles and that the city had chartered three special trains to take as many of the unfortunates as possible to more prosperous communities. Mr. Elliott suggested that all should try to set eastern friends right about real conditions here.

"It is well to state emphatically that we are not suffering from any serious business depression," he said. "The number of failures is not unusually high nor is there any widespread unemployment. There has been a very decided halt in real estate subdivision, but very little, if any, decrease in the price of lots. City business property values have been maintained. It is true that building in certain lines has been overdone but single family dwellings are still in demand.

"Business conditions in Southern California as measured by bank deposits and clearings, by retail trade, by the value of building permits, by postoffice receipts, in fact by all the usual indices, are seen to be at a very high level. Fundamentally, the economic life of Southern California rests upon a firm foundation. There will come periods of recession such as the present, but we may look forward with confidence to the continued and rapid development of the whole of Southern California."

Optimistic

EDWARD ELLIOTT, vice president of the Security Trust & Savings bank, a Glendale visitor today with a message of optimism regarding the business situation.

Sackcloth and Ashes Cause Man's Arrest

In sackcloth and ashes, his shirt made of a burlap bag crudely painted with Biblical inscriptions, C. Van Buggen, a demented world war veteran, was picked up on Brand boulevard near Cypress street yesterday afternoon by officers from the Glendale police department, and taken to the Los Angeles psychopathic ward, where it was said he was no stranger.

The man is 34 years old, of good appearance and aside from a marked religious fanaticism, showed no signs of abnormality. It was said at the psychopathic ward that he had received a wound in the head, from which he had never fully recovered.

Predicts Coast Will Have Factory Plants

Predictions of a great manufacturing future for the Pacific coast, were made yesterday by James H. Boye, founder and president of the James H. Boye Manufacturing company of Chicago, Ill., who, with his wife and children, Louise and James, jr., were dinner guests of Dr. and Mrs. E. T. Remmen in their new home, 1139 Justin street. Miss Evelyn Moore of Richmond, Va., was also a dinner guest of the Remmens.

Mr. Boye, who has been touring by auto Oregon, Washington and California, states that he notices great progress since his last visit three years ago. His predictions are most promising for the future of manufacturing on the Pacific coast.

California Pioneer Will Be Honor Guest

Mrs. R. C. Talbott and Mrs. A. M. King are entertaining with a dinner tonight at Mrs. Talbott's home 453 W. Harvard street, in honor of Mrs. A. J. Henry of San Bernardino, their aunt, a California pioneer, who will be 80 years old in August.

Mrs. Henry has been a resident of San Bernardino for thirty-five years and has seen all this part of the country emerge from the mesa. A number of old friends and members of the family will be present to pay tribute to her and indulge in reminiscences.

PLAINTIFFS DROP BILLBOARD SUIT

Dismissal Follows Passage Of New Ordinance by City Council

The injunction suit brought against the city of Glendale to restrain the operation of the former bill board ordinance has been dismissed, states Ray L. Morrow, city attorney, who represented Glendale yesterday afternoon in Los Angeles, at a conference with McComb & Hall, attorneys for the Highway Display company, who instituted the action.

The dismissal of the suit was filed this morning, Mr. Morrow states. In order to have continued their action in the face of the amended billboard ordinance recently passed by the Glendale City Council, the Highway Display company would have had to amend their suit. They preferred to drop the action.

Up to Commission

Under the amended billboard ordinance, the City Planning commission has the say as to where billboards shall be placed within the city limits. The original ordinance practically barred billboards in Glendale and gave the city the unique reputation of being the only municipality of its size in Southern California to ban billboards.

At the time the amended ordinance was passed, Mayor Spencer Robinson of Glendale was bitterly opposed to the change, and voted against the measure in the City Council. P. J. Hayselden, secretary of the City Planning commission, was present in the council chambers at the time the amended ordinance was passed, and voiced the objection of the commission to it.

Rigid Supervision

The amended ordinance was passed, however, and Glendale will no longer enjoy the distinction of being the only municipality of its size in this section without billboards. That the arrangement is satisfactory to the billboard companies is seen in the willingness of the Highway Display company to drop their injunction suit, argues Mr. Hayselden.

The City Planning commission will, nevertheless, rigidly supervise the placing of billboards within the city limits, he states, and every effort will be made not to mar any of the municipality's many natural beauty spots.

IMPROVEMENT IN TRADE MANIFEST

Business Optimism Growing In Southland, Asserts Lumber Co. Head

Better business conditions throughout the entire Southland are seen by Frank L. Fox, president of the Fox-Woodsum Lumber company, in a review of the volume of trade that has been recorded during the month of July.

"The flood tide of optimism that began to flow since the first of July," says Mr. Fox, "is increasing in strength daily, and the prospects for improved trade conditions are brighter than they have been in many months. The scare that some people felt earlier in the summer has passed and they are getting back their poise and realizing that the slight depression that was experienced in some lines has, in general, been overcome.

Advance in July

"In our own plant July showed a better business than did June, and the orders that are flowing in daily indicate an extremely active season directly ahead of us in the fall.

"The July building permits that were sent across the million dollar line by the issuance of the $400,000 permit for the Grand View mausoleum yesterday, would have shown up in good shape for this season of the year even had they not received this wonderful boost," added Mr. Fox.

Sensible Iowans Doubt Stories Of Southland's Depression, Says Mayor

Louis E. Roddewig, mayor of Davenport, Iowa, left this morning with his family for his home city, after being the guest since July 9 of Mayor and Mrs. Spencer Robinson, 1234 East Windsor road. On his departure Mayor Roddewig paid a sincere tribute to Glendale, stating he hoped to make as his permanent home the city that, for two successive months during an alleged depression, has sent the building barometer soaring over the million mark.

"This is my sixth visit to Glendale," declared Mayor Roddewig, "and I hope to make the seventh my lucky number, coming here to stay. My wife has been sold on the city for four years, and she has been a good missionary, slowly, but surely, converting me to its charms.

Registrar Lyons Is Summoned by Death

David B. Lyons, county registrar of voters, died at the California hospital, Los Angeles, last night, as the result of an illness from which he had been suffering for the past month and which assumed serious proportions ten days ago.

Mr. Lyons had held the position of registrar since 1917 and had made a reputation through perfecting a system of tabulating election returns that has been widely adopted in many other states.

He came to California in 1904 from Des Moines, Ia., and engaged in the real estate business, later entering actively into political affairs.

He is survived by his widow and a son, Willard E. Lyons of Chicago.

You Can Take Time From Eternity

By C. H. Woodward

THROUGH THE DISCOVERY of the Law of Life, it is now possible to take time from eternity and put it into the life of man—into your life.

First: Knowledge

The Law of Life has revealed the cause of disease. Through knowing the cause of disease, it has become possible to prevent it, as well as to correct it in many instances where correction has heretofore been believed to be impossible.

The Law

Replenishment is the law of life, and the law of life is the law of health.

Its Operation

The human body is a marvelous aggregation of life cells. These life cells—all of them—are fed by the blood stream. That is one of the reasons why the blood circulates. It is the food-carrier to the life-cells.

The blood, however, cannot continue to supply to the life cells their food requirements unless it has had the identical substances restored to it which have been removed hour by hour by the life cells in the process we call living.

This replenishment, this restoration, can be made only through natural food—not artificial substances which are merely parts of natural ones.

What Disease Is

Disease manifests itself by a change in the function or action of the life cells somewhere in the body. In fact, disease is merely changed function of some of the life cells, whether that change be manifested as asthma, goitre, palsy, cancer, constipation, high blood pressure, boils, headaches, neuritis or rheumatism, or any of the other named manifestations of such changes.

Replenishment vs. Disease

When the replenishment or restoration is taking place fully, and the identical 16 elements in their balanced relation are restored to the blood, then any condition of changed function naturally tends to disappear, wherever this manifestation of disease may have appeared in the body.

How to Replenish

WHERE ARE THESE 16 ELEMENTS FOUND?

Natural wheat, before it has been subjected to milling, or separation processes, or cooking processes in the presence of oxygen, contains the identical 16 elements in their balanced relation which are found in the blood and life cells of the body. It is, therefore, the most potent replenisher of the blood which man knows.

But, cooking in the presence of oxygen, upsets the balanced relation of these elements and causes the loss of some of them, and the oxidation of most, if not all, of the minerals, while others disappear in the form of gases through evaporation, and while still others are distilled out and lost through precipitation.

Cooking Without Denaturing

A new method of preparing that is protected by the United States and Canadian governments, enables mankind to get natural wheat, Whole Grain Wheat in its natural berry form, just as it comes from the harvest field, ready to eat, with nothing lost and nothing taken away, for the first time in the history of wheat as a food substance—cooked ready to serve, yet identical with the raw, ripe grain in its constituent elements.

Delicious, Nutritious Wheat

Whole Grain Wheat possesses the minerals and vitamines possessed by the natural grain, and is delicious and sweet as a nut.

This development in food preparation has opened up a new era in the preparation of foods. By it the Whole Grain Wheat Company has literally "taken Time from Eternity" and has added it to the lives of hundreds of thousands of men and women and children in America.

Why Remain Sick?

When you realize that most of the physical ills to which modern civilization is heir can be traced to the use of denatured foods, or the improper use of natural foods, and that WHEAT is nature's one complete, balanced food, you will begin to understand why the use of Whole Grain Wheat, as prepared by the Whole Grain Wheat Company, has corrected more than seventy-four human ailments, including ashtma, tuberculosis, rheumatism, neuritis, goitre, overweight, constipation (with all of its attendant bad effects, including bad breath, etc.) simply by enabling the restoration of the tissues to normal.

Why continue hour after hour in pain and suffering through violating the law of life when you can easily be in accord with it?

A Remarkable Guarantee

Skeptical humanity looks for the complex and overlooks the simple, obvious things too often.

Because of this skeptical attitude, Whole Grain Wheat is sold under the definite and literal guarantee that it will benefit the user markedly, both mentally and physically, if eaten merely twice a day for 24 days. If after so eating it the user does not know that such benefits have been received, markedly, mind you, the purchase price will be refunded without argument, the user to be the sole judge.

Where Obtainable

Whole Grain Wheat is available in Southern California only through the Los Angeles Food and Health Clinic or its representative in each community, in cases of one dozen tins (sufficient for 24 days for one person) at $2.25, or in cases of four dozen at $8.30, delivered.

Learn from us how you can step out of the stagnation of disease into the joy and power of health and take from eternity the Time that is Rightfully Yours.

INSANITY AND CRIME

Two Chicago men, after twenty-seven years of study, have made the deduction that crime is caused by a defect in the brain. These men are Judge Harry Olson, justice of the Municipal court of Chicago and Dr. William J. Hickson, director of the psychopathic laboratory attached to the criminal division of the Municipal court. This defect, they say, renders the victim either above or below normal in emotion. The man emotionally above normal is readily identified as being crazy; the one emotionally below normal is usually quiet and is not suspected until after he has committed a crime. Nearly all criminals belong to the latter class.

According to these men, everyone has two brains. The upper brain is the seat of the intelligence, the lower the seat of the emotions. This would seem to explain why men of extraordinary intelligence have committed cold blooded murder, while others of little or no intelligence would not so much as harm a fly. Combinations of these two extremes are seen all about us.

Judge Olson and Dr. Hickson declare that the defect that makes a man a criminal is inherited and that it is incurable. They say that the conception that man is a free moral agent with the ability to choose between right and wrong is not destroyed by their theory. We all know of people so low in intelligence that they cannot grasp the idea of good and evil, for instance, the inmates of feeble-minded asylums. Likewise, say these investigators, there are people so low in emotional response that they lack the impulses which ordinarily control actions for good or evil.

This discovery of the cause of crime has been made after a test of 40,000 cases, every one of which confirmed the contentions of these psychologists. Their work opens a line of thought and procedure that is of tremendous import to society. They would replace prisons with segregation farms where these victims of hereditary defects could live happily without menacing society. In a generation or two, they believe the race would rid itself of the tainted blood stream that is the cause of crime.

OUR TIMBER SUPPLY

America is a wasteful nation and in no way are we so prodigal as in the carelessness and recklessness with which we use up our natural resources—notably our timber.

Seventeen per cent of the total forest area of the United States is embraced in national forests and national parks. When our national forest service was established in 1905 it set itself to manage the national forests "to the greatest good of the greatest number in the long run," to protect the forests from fire, to cut timber in ways that would grow a new crop, to regulate grazing and to plant fire-swept areas with new trees. The value and use of the national forests for recreation is growing every year and the service is helping to make these big playgrounds available to the people.

But, in sections where forests may be used for timber, the trees are disappearing rapidly. In California, several wealthy people, appalled at the ruthless destruction of the redwoods, have purchased these groves and presented them to the state. In other sections the timber supply is becoming exhausted, and, since the use of all kinds of wood is growing, lumber is soaring in price.

A government bulletin points out that much of the forest land that has been denuded is not being used for other purposes and should be reforested. Much of this land, it is said, is in close proximity to large, eastern, lumber-using centers. The policy of allowing this timber land to lie idle and using the rapidly diminishing timber supply from points further distant is short-sighted in the extreme.

The virgin forests of the United States originally covered 822,000,000 acres. They are now shrunk to one-sixth of that size and we are cutting our timber four times as rapidly as it is being replaced.

THE GOVERNMENT WHICH GOVERNS LEAST

It is to the interests of the people to have "least government"; it is to the interest of the politicians to have "most government," says a writer in the Christian Science Monitor, "for this means more salaries for their class and more jobs for their underlings."

"It is time that the whole process was reversed, for as it is, ideal citizenship is becoming impossible, and the people are being swept into an engulfing anarchy of law. Laws multiplied without restraint, of whose meaning and intent few can be certain, are little better than no laws at all, and, by making of today's situation a hopeless muddle for the citizens, are fast bringing government into contempt."

Ignorance of the law is no excuse for violation of the law, it is often said. But, how can any human being know all the laws and how could ordinary citizens interpret the laws if he knew them, since lawyers themselves disagree? There are 260 volumes of Supreme Court decisions alone, to say nothing of the "thou shalt nots" that are on the statute books of the states and the cities.

And still we sign petitions to get this and that on the ballot so that we may vote for it and make it a law.

IN THE LAND OF OPPORTUNITY

We may or may not admire Governor Al Smith of New York as a man, an official, a politician. We may or may not have approved of his elimination from the presidential race. But, we must all grasp the significance of the fact that a product of "The sidewalks of New York," could rise to such power and prominence. The biography of Alfred E. Smith, recently issued, is extremely interesting, written though it was, solely to advance his campaign for the presidency. The author, Henry Moskowitz, pays America a high tribute as "the land of opportunity." He pictures Smith's lowly origin as a New York east side boy, his triumph over educational handicaps and unpromising environment and his rise to fame. He makes his subject an attractive and a forceful character.

Although written for political purposes, the book is worth reading, and has a social significance that is vital and that cannot be ignored.

You can't get rid of trouble by trying to drown it; the best way is to lead it out into the woods and lose it.

Wealth without health is nothing; health without wealth is everything.

THERE'S A REASON FOR HIS GOING UP SO FAST

After Five Years

By DR. FRANK CRANE

In a recent number of the Atlantic Monthly an article appeared called "After Five Years."

It was a record of the League of Nations since its formation.

Those who have championed and those who have opposed this league have been so hot that it is difficult for either side to see the exact facts. These will only come out after time has sifted them.

So far as we can see, the facts in the case at present are as follows:

1. The league never has been, and never will be, a partisan question, for it is a matter of engaging the co-operation of the whole world.

2. Some forty-seven out of the fifty-three or more nations of the world are united in it.

The league neither does what its protagonists claimed for it, nor threatens what its antagonists declared for it. It is more valuable than its opponents had supposed; it is less valuable than its defenders had imagined.

3. The league has demonstrated itself to be in no sense a super state. Every nation, and particularly those who are members of the league, is as jealous of its national sovereignty as we ourselves could be.

4. The most of the weaknesses of the league have been due to the refusal of the United States to become a party of it. The militarism of France and the collapse of Germany have been very largely due to this refusal. If we had taken our place, as was proper, in the league, and participated in its discussions, it would not have been necessary, for instance, for France to assume the imperialistic and intolerant ideas that she has done.

5. The league may not be, as it was hoped, an admirable and perfect way to end war, but it is some way. It has prevented wars by merely furnishing an opportunity for all people to express themselves.

6. The league has influence, but not authority. That is, it assists the nations to become world minded by virtue of bringing everything into a place where the good of all is discussed.

7. It is impossible to live in the world without doing one of two things: Either co-operating with it or being independent of it.

Every form of activity tends to co-operation, such as art, letters and commerce. Some way should be found to enable us to co-operate politically with the other peoples. We shall have to do one of three things: To enter the league without reservations, to enter it with reservations, or to co-operate without entering.

It is impossible for us to maintain a consistent isolation.

When the people of the country have had time enough seriously to digest the idea of the League of Nations they will decide upon one of these three things. No man lives forever, not even a Lodge, or a Johnson, or any other of the irreconcilables. Nothing lives forever but an idea. There was an idea at the bottom of the league; a beneficent idea which should be welcome to the world. It was the idea of co-operation; and that idea will not die.

Horoscope

Venus and Jupiter dominate this day in benefic aspect, according to astrology. Mars is slightly adverse.

The new moon of this date, which takes place just before sunset, is an eclipse of the sun and is rather promising in its aspects.

The rising position of Mars opposed to Mercury is read as presaging many libel suits and much slander in the course of the next few months.

Railways are to have heavier traffic than usual and will have some unusual burden of business, it is prognosticated.

Naval affairs are to be discussed more prominently than usual and they will cause trouble to certain officials, if the stars are rightly interpreted.

Crimes against women and children are to continue numerous and they will lead in an organized woman movement toward protection, it is foretold.

Labor is to benefit from many causes and the presidential election is to be exceedingly significant for industry, the seers announce.

Mercury in the seventh opposed to Mars presages trade and commercial disputes that may cause international complications.

Much controversy in the newspapers, many religious discussions and frequent diplomatic blunders appear to be indicated by the planetary government.

The elevation of Jupiter should be favorable for Congress and seems to promise legislation that is beneficial to all the people.

Scarcity of certain grains appears to be foreshadowed and food prices are not likely to drop.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of rather a prosperous year, but they should avoid changes.

Children born on this day have all the big possibilities for success, in all possibility. These subjects of Leo are usually gifted and in addition have energy as well as ambition.

Who's Who

The recent forced suspension of the French Chamber, the second to occur within a few days' time, has again brought the president of the Chamber, Paul Painleve, into prominence.

Paul Painieve is a scholar, who forsook teaching for politics. When he first came into prominence in 1900 he was professor at the Ecole Polytechnique and had been elected a member of the Academy of Science. He was specializing in physics and higher mathematics in 1910, when he decided to stand for the Fifth Arrondissement of Paris and was elected. Before he accepted his first portfolio, the portfolio of inventions, in October, 1915, he had been reporter of the naval budget in 1911 and chairman of the naval committee in 1914.

When the Briand cabinet was reorganized in December, 1916, the portfolio of war was offered Painleve, but he declined it, only to accept it a few months later, March, 1917, from the hand of Ribot.

It was then the beginning of the defeatism wave in France, which found dismal expression in various mutinies at the front after the costly experiment of Nivelle in Champagne in April, 1917. Painleve succeeded Ribot after six months and tried for a time to govern with Ribot and without the Socialists. But the incubus of Malvy in the department of the interior proved too much. Then in November came the revelations and with them the "Tiger." Painleve is 61 years old.

Today's Poem

SILENCE

Whisper not, you may be heard
As the lowest spoken word
Carries forth atomic sound
And by many ears is found;
Granite walls will not prevent
Spreading tales of bad intent;
Silence comes as still as death
After words have lost their breath.

Do not trust the listening ear,
Keep your conscience clean and clear;
When suspicion holds the stake
Wagging tongues their rounds will make;
Sometimes secrets travel fast
Magnifying in their blast;
Eyes speak volumes of the mind
Silent, in their walls confined.

When harsh tongues malign a friend,
Gallantly you should defend;
Put to silence and to shame
Those who blacken his good name;
Idle gossip knows no bounds
Based upon malicious grounds,
Taken with a grain of salt
It will weaken by default.

Falsehoods often reach the ear
Which we do not care to hear;
He who brings will also take,
Therein lies a grave mistake;
Wave aside the voice that comes
When the heart with hatred hums;
Silence is a golden trait
Which we all should cultivate.

Smiles

FOR MEN ONLY

A portly woman had, by mistake, taken a seat in a railway coach reserved for smokers. With unconcealed indignation she saw the man next to her fill his pipe.

"Sir," she said in frigid tones, "smoking always makes me ill."

The man calmly lit his pipe and puffed contentedly, and at the same time replied:

"Does it, ma'am? Well, take my advice and give it up."

The Ravings Of a Grouch

An acquaintance of mine was telling me the other day, he thought I must be a very unhappy fellow and he gave as his reason that I am always saying I do not understand this or that foible of human nature and that I cannot comprehend why a person should do thus and so. The happiest person in the world, he says, is the one who understands human nature the best, makes allowances for differences in disposition, character and training and has the most sympathy for his fellows.

He was right, but I am by no means as grouchy as I seem. I really love human nature in its various forms. I like to study human beings, and as we are all more or less alike I have a fellow-feeling for the rest of humanity, no matter how much I seem to condemn.

It is true that lack of sympathy and fellow-feeling must be the cause of much of the unhappiness in the world. At least, the world would be much happier if we all practiced good-will to others. If we could eliminate all the little pseudo-aristocracies of wealth, position, learning and so forth, we should all be more at home in the world. Those things are all comparative anyway. The man with just enough to live on looks down on the pauper. The one who has a few dollars ahead thinks himself superior to the man who lives from hand to mouth. The man with quite a competence thinks himself superior to the man who has but a little. And so on up the scale of wealth and position. No matter how arrogantly we disdain to notice the one we think beneath us there is always some one to ignore us in the same way.

We are all so much like children, counting our gewgaws and estimating our worth in that way. We who are comparatively low in the social scale rail at those who feel above us. We should be more contented if we could make ourselves understand that, had fate been kinder to us, we should be conducting ourselves in much the same way as they are. And if those who think wealth or social standing makes them superior to us could realize that we are human beings, a good deal like themselves, they would be happier, too.

To feel either superior or inferior to others is not good, the former leads to injustice, the latter to hatred and neither promotes contentment. It is good to strive to excel, to make the most of life, but undue pride in our belongings or our accomplishments gets us nowhere. The better we understand each other the happier this old world will be.

PLANS BARBECUE, MUSIC PROGRAM

Mrs. Viola Waddell Will Be Hostess to La Crescenta Club and Friends

Spirit of the days of the ranchos and haciendas will be revived next Thursday, when Mrs. Viola Waddell will entertain members and friends of the La Crescenta Women's club at her Glendale home, 1229 East Wilson avenue, at a pit barbecue and musical program.

Although a modest home place, Mrs. Waddell's home is splendidly adapted for the affair planned Under the direction of W. H. Porter, several novel features were incorporated in the home and surroundings that make for great attraction and pleasure.

One of these features is an "Horno Mexicana" or Mexican oven, which barbecues meat deliciously. There the club dinner will be prepared and enjoyed in the patio, while a harpist in a small roof garden above entertains with entrancing music.

The affair is to be held from 2:30 till 6 o'clock. A silver offering is to be given for the club's building fund. Men attending will be asked to pay a fee of $5.

One automobile to every 5500 people was the proportion in 1900—today there is one to every eight in this country.

AUTOMOBILE SECTION

GLENDALE, LOS ANGELES COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, JULY 31, 1924

$5,000,000 TO BE SPENT ON ROADS

Southland Contracts Will Provide More Highways In Coming Year

Southern California during the first six months of 1924 has contracted for more than $5,000,000 of road work, one-third of which has been state funds, and the remaining two-thirds provided by the counties. This money will be applied on the construction and improvement of more than 350 miles of highway. There were forty-six different projects undertaken.

In addition to this road work there were thirteen bridges placed under construction, totalling nearly 1200 feet in length and involving expenditures of more than $124,000.

State Projects

These figures are estimated from records of the engineering department of the Automobile Club of Southern California, which organization has always been a strong proponent of good roads, and which keeps tab of the highway construction through this section.

The state projects approximate $1,750,000 in expenditures and include 11.9 miles of gravel road in Imperial county, 27.5 miles of cement and asphalt concrete and grading in Los Angeles county, 21.2 miles of grading and Portland cement concrete in Orange county, 24.6 miles of grading, cement concrete, widening and sea wall in Ventura county. In Orange county also the state is buildin; a 522-foot bridge across the Santa Ana river.

County Highways

County highway construction shows 40¼ miles of asphalt concrete in Kern county; approximately 48 miles of road work in Los Angeles county of practically all classes; 13 miles of graveling, asphalt and cement concrete, and widening in Orange county; nearly six miles of macadam in Riverside county; 132 miles of repairing and macadam and macadam and oil in San Bernardino county; five miles of cement concrete in San Diego county; 25 miles of macadam in Santa Ynez valley in Santa Barbara county and three miles of asphalt macadam in Ventura county.

Reserve White and Red for City Cars

The municipal authorities of Rio de Janeiro have issued an order forbidding motorists to use cars painted either white or red, these colors being reserved for the municipal vehicles, which have the right of way, white for motor ambulances and red for fire engines.

Auto Industry In Healthy Condition, So Figures Show

If the production of motor vehicles is accepted as an indication of national prosperity, the first six months of 1924 denote a healthy condition, according to compilations announced by the Automobile Club of Southern California.

More than 2,000,000 motor vehicles were turned out of factories of the country up to July 1, and this total is within one and one-half per cent of the number made in the first half of 1923.

One of the most favorable factors in the automobile world is the steady increase in exports which reached a new high total in May, when 18,665 passenger cars were exported and 3800 trucks were sent to foreign countries. It is expected that the automobile market will be stronger in the fall.

Automatic Sign Cuts Traffic Law Arrests

Is the automatic signal constructed by the Automobile Club of Southern California at the corner of Figueroa and Adams streets, Los Angeles, a success?

The traffic officer at this intersection has some data from which anyone may draw conclusions. When interviewed he said that in the past six weeks he had given out only five tags, or less than one arrest a week.

The first week the signal was in operation he was compelled to stop an average of seventy-five cars a day. After a few weeks of operation this number is reduced to twelve a day. The traffic commission check showed that 69,797 cars traverse this intersection daily, indicating that only a fraction of one per cent of the drivers failed to interpret the signals properly.

Dimming Headlights Dangerous Practice

To dim the headlight is one of the most dangerous things a motorist can do. When driving at twenty-five miles an hour, and when the headlights are suddenly dimmed, the car will go more than 100 feet before the eyes of the driver can accommodate themselves to see with the dimmed path of light out in front, and before the driver is able to distinguish objects on the road, or turns, or anything else that might interfere with safe operation of the car. It is much better to have the head lamps on—but properly adjusted, so that the brightest beams are kept down within three feet of the road surface at a distance of twenty-five feet. At this distance, there will be no danger of blinding on-coming drivers from glare.

A skull of a prehistoric man, found in New Mexico, shows evidence of an attempt at surgery, a section of frontal bone having been removed.

CLUB TOTAL NOW OVER 100,000

Mammoth Motor Association Increases Membership From Small Start

Fixing more securely its place as leader among motoring organizations of the world, M. B. Towman, local representative of the Automobile Club of Southern California has just announced that the club has passed the 100,000 mark in membership. A significant fact of this enormous growth is emphasized by the statement that the club yesterday had a membership equal to the entire population of Los Angeles in 1900, the year the club was organized, or 102,479.

No ceremonies marked the rounding out of the six-figure membership, although it brought a thrill of gratification to the officers, directors, and employes who have so successfully guided the destinies of the huge organization and made its emblem a universal sign of service to the motorist.

Growth of Club

Oddly enough, the 100,000th milestone in the history of the organization came on the thirtieth anniversary of the first successful demonstration of the so-called "horseless carriage." Six years afterward, when the automobile was yet considered in the class of toys and luxuries, the Automobile Club of Southern California was incorporated with fifty-six members. After nearly twenty-four years of its existence it has averaged an increase of more than 4,000 members a year, and today there are twenty-nine branches located at population centers through the thirteen southern counties of the state, in addition to the million dollar headquarters at Figueroa and Adams streets in Los Angeles.

Service Broadens

More than 1,000 employes are required to take care of the business of the organization, and fourteen of the principal departments give direct service to members and visiting motorists. The club is constantly on the alert to meet all demands relative to touring, signposting, mapping, engineering, legal, theft, insurance, hotels and garages, car forwarding, licenses, outing, public safety and highway patrol.

While primarily organized to benefit members, the club has been equally active in community building. All Southern California has been served by the organization's broad, impressive policy in the promotion of good roads; in urging fair and desirable legislation; in advcating equitable tax measures; in co-operating with national, state, county and community plans for highway development, and in attracting and serving hundreds of thousands of motor tourists that come from all parts of the country.

Good Highways And Many Scenic Attractions Bring Record Breaking Traffic

Records for auto touring will be shattered in 1924 if present activities are maintained, according to the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California. Not only are hordes of motorists entering the state for vacation trips, but more Southern Californians than ever before are taking advantage of their own highways and scenic spots, and it is reported that more California cars are entering Oregon, Washington and Canada than at any time in history.

While actual checks of incoming cars are difficult, it is an easy matter to compute the general travel from the calls upon the touring bureau of the auto club. Up to July 15 the club has distributed more than 3,500,000 maps to motorists in 1924. The same period last year shows 3,000,000 maps were given out. This places the first six and a half months of this year 500,000 maps ahead of last year, which brought a record of number of cars, or a gain of approximately 17 per cent.

Not only is motor touring more general this season, but the appearance of cars coming into California indicates that motorists have at last learned that he who travels fastest travels lightest. The typical tourist of the past few years is disappearing and the cars arriving with passengers entangled in iron beds, collapsible tables, cumbersome stoves, and resembling a moving van in distress, are disappearing fast. The motor tourist is learning there is more comfort and greater speed through light, compact equipment.

The motor traveler this year also is finding more adequate provisions made for rubber tired tourists. Auto camps are found in every community. In most cases they are comfortable, clean and appealing to the party that has been traveling all day. These camps anticipate the needs of the wanderer and are prepared to give service at nominal charges.

The present high peak of travel is expected to continue throughout the late fall.

MEXICAN BORDER RULES ARE TOLD

Observance of Regulations Will Aid Comfort and Pleasure of Trip

"Keep sweet, and remember you have to play the game the other fellow's way," is the admonition given to visiting motorists who are planning to cross the border into Mexico.

With the arrival of increasing numbers of tourists unfamiliar with border regulations, it is pointed out by the Automobile club of southern California that annoyance and delays may be avoided by a little foresight and understanding.

Most persons are familiar with the fact that dutiable merchandise cannot be taken from one country to another without paying the custom, but many do not understand why they must obtain bonds to drive their cars into Mexico.

Some Suggestions

Here are a few suggestions from the auto club touring department.

Courtesy pays at the border, as elsewhere.

Cars must stop for inspection, both going in and coming out of Mexico.

To go further than Mexicali or Tia Juana into Lower California the car must be covered by a bond These may be obtained from any authorized broker, and costs $3. These may be ootained from any authorized broker, and costs $3. These may be obtained in advance by wiring the make of car, driver's name, license and engine numbers. This bond is in lieu of paying duty on the car on entering Mexico and the fee is the broker's charge.

Firearms cannot be taken into Mexico except shot guns for hunting. Permits must be obtained for these at average cost of $4.50. These are good for the life of the gun.

The game laws of Mexico must be obeyed in hunting and fishing.

There is no use arguing with the guards at the border. Their duties are prescribed by their government, and exceptions cannot be made.

The ancient adage, "When in Rome do as the Romans do," will be found a useful guide to those motoring into Mexico.

Urge Care In Giving Signals for Turning

Regardless of repeated warnings, many drivers fail to give proper hand signals and many avertable crashes are resulting, according to records of the safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California. Careless hand signalling also is leaving its trail of wrecks.

The hand signal should be given continuously for fifty feet before a turn or stop is made. The arm should be raised high up for a right-hand turn; straight out for a left turn and pointed toward the ground for a stop. Careless drivers are warned that failure to signal properly has made many persons pay for resulting damage.

Many Find Work in Automotive Fields

In the United States there are 3,105,350 persons employed directly and indirectly in the automobile industry. Of this number, 318,000 are workers in auto factories.

Prospective Tourists Ask Southland Data

Demands in the East for Southern California touring information is becoming so keen that the aeroplane mail service is being used by prospective touring parties. An auto party from Bloomington, Ill., initiated the aeroplane mail delivery and the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California sent a complete set of maps covering the National Old Trails route by return aeroplane, so that the tourist could leave for Los Angeles without delay.

Although hundreds of telegraphic inquiries are received by the auto club, it is not possible to send maps by wire. Hence, the aeroplane mail service will be of material aid to those wishing rush information for their trip to Southern California.

NEW RULING HITS AUTO DEALERS

Provisions for Taxation In New Revenue Act Are Told by Collector

Important changes affecting Southern California automobile dealers and accessory manufacturers under the new revenue act were announced by Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell.

Under the Revenue Act of 1921 manufacturers or producers of articles taxable under section 900 were permitted to purchase all kinds of parts and accessories, including passenger car chassis, and all kinds of bodies, tax free under certificate. By giving the original manufacturer such a certificate, they assumed the obligation of the manufacturer with respect to the tax on articles purchased thereunder.

Tax on Chassis

Under the Revenue Act of 1924, effective midnight of July 2, there is a similar provision for the exemption of sales of all other parts and accessories to manufacturers, but, by the specific language of the act, this exemption does not apply to sales of bodies or chassis. Automobile truck chassis and automobile wagon chassis sold by the manufacturer, producer, or importer for $1000, or less, and automobile truck bodies and automobile wagon bodies sold by the manufacturer, producer, or importer for $200, or less, are not subject to tax. Such chassis and bodies sold by the manufacturer, producer, or importer for prices in excess of $1,000, and $200, respectively, are subject to a tax of 3 per cent of the full price in every instance, and may not be sold to manufacturers tax free under certificate.

"Other automobile" or passenger car chassis and bodies are subject to a tax of 5 per cent of the full selling price of the manufacturer, producer, or importer, in every instance, and may not be sold tax free under certificate.

Company Is Here! Please Be Polite To Motor Tourists

Now is the time to be polite on the highway. Company has arrived.

This is the suggestion to motorists being broadcasted by the Automobile Club of Southern California in an effort to show visting motorists that Southern California not only has the greatest number of automobiles in the world in proportion to population, but also is the home of the most courteous drivers.

July brought a high peak in motor tourists from everywhere. These stranger drivers not only are unfamiliar with the roads, but with local ordinances, so they are likely to become confused at times or need help. Nothing contributes so much to the pleasure of touring as courtesy, says the auto club, and if these tens of thousands of visiting motorists find themselves among a careful and courteous population, the charm of Southern California will be more impelling, and the population increase will come in a greater ratio.

Cyclists Must Carry Lights, Is State Law

The recent tragic death of a babe and injuring of five other persons seriously when an automobile was forced to turn sharply to avoid running down a bicycle not equipped with lights, has brought a warning from the authorities to bicycle riders that the state law demands that every vehicle must be equipped with lights when upon any public highway after dark.

A check made by the Automobile Club of Southern California shows there have been several tragedies recently, due to failure of bicyclists to be provided with lights, and there have been a number of near accidents when cars have suddenly come upon a lone rider ignoring the state law. It is pointed out that a two-wheeled vehicle should carry a light, not only for its own protection, but for the protection of every car that is in danger of skidding and overturning when it is swerved suddenly.

DIVERT CARS FROM MAIN HIGHWAYS

Traffic Problems Nearing Solution as Experts Study Question

NEW YORK, July 31.—Adjustment of the pressing traffic situation on the streets and highways of the United States is making rapid strides. To some extent, this is due to police regulation, more stringent parking rules and restrictions placed on the number and empty cruising radius of taxicabs. But the most effective measures have been those originated by engineers most of whom gained their training on the railroads.

These steps have been along the lines of a re-routing of traffic in congested districts. The automobile traffic of the country now is going through the same difficulties that the railroads experienced fifty years ago. As rail traffic developed, the old single track lines became inadequate to handle the passenger and freight traffic they were called upon to carry.

Double Highways

Civil engineers smoothed out this difficulty by surveying parallel lines and double tracking. They are doing a practically identical work now in many sections of the country with automobile traffic. The ordinary highway between large centers, even if excellently paved, can carry only a certain amount of vehicular traffic. The traffic can be increased to a certain point by police regulation and speeding up the movement, but the capacity of each highway is limited.

Many roads and streets have reached that limit and engineers now are laying out routes which will turn the stream of vehicles away from the more crowded highways and inducing them to follow other routes. As terminal congestion was the chief source of delay in railroad train movements, so the crowded city streets present the most vexatious difficulty in automobile movement. The problem now being solved is to route through traffic around the

ONE OF THE COMPLETE LINE OF LEE TIRES

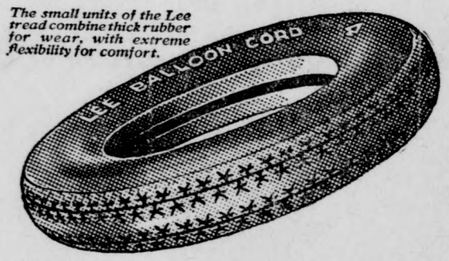
LEE Balloons

The Perfected Balloon Cord Tires

Lee makes no claim to be the originator of the Balloon Tire. But, during the period of early experimentation, Lee Engineers have been close and constant observers of the many new problems involved in the production of this type of casing. Each innovation brought forward has been carefully tested (on Lee test cars, not on those belonging to Lee customers), and, if proved of value, perfected and adapted to the Lee Balloon.

The result—a perfected balloon tire, incorporating every element known to date which would make for greater comfort, safety, wear and economy. A tire out of the experimental stage.

The small units of the Lee tread combine thick rubber for wear, with extreme flexibility for comfort.



We Supply Both Wheels and Tires

We are now equipped to render you complete service on balloon tires. We have stocked a full line of LEE Service (small diameter) Wheels, or we can fit balloons to your present wheels if you prefer. Come in and talk it over. Or send for free booklet giving the whole story of balloon tires.

Why Studebaker excels the world in body building—

For 72 years Studebaker has been a builder of quality vehicles.

This historical tradition has been inbred in generation after generation of coach-makers. And the Indiana city of South Bend is known as a world-Mecca of artisans of this craft.

In the modern $10,000,000 Studebaker body plants, there are sons and fathers and grandfathers working side by side. Their religion is fine coach building. And this is reflected in their work.

As fine body builders, Studebaker stands supreme. No other maker has the experience of Studebaker. No other the Studebaker traditions to inspire him.

Studebaker is equaled only by costliest Foreign and American Makes

WIDE COLLARS WORN

PARIS, July 31.—The wide collar, standing straight up in De Medici fashion, is seen today on some of the smarter evening wraps. It is made of pleated silk, the pleats being very fine, and often is of white on a black crepe garment.

TULLE OVERDRESS

PARIS, July 31.—Plaited tulle, very delicately and airily poised, forms a gorgeous overdress to a frock of black georgette worn here today. This is but another way of expressing the red and black motif which is creeping into the styles.

GRAY HOSE POPULAR

NEW YORK, July 31.—Gray hosiery with a faint rose tint to it is smart today for wear with either white or black shoes. Black shoes are distinctly in favor, especially when trimmed with rather small steel buckles.

Walter P. Chrysler Analyzes Good Maxwell Values

You undoubtedly have pretty well defined ideas of how much motoring your money can buy in the four-cylinder field.

But if you are not personally familiar with the good Maxwell of today, your ideas are due for a thorough revision. We can promise you that after you have put the good Maxwell to a thorough test.

With the participation of the Chrysler engineering staff, the progress of the good Maxwell lifts it far beyond the values usually found in four-cylinder cars at any price.

By values we mean performing satisfaction, ready acceleration, freedom from vibration, certainty of control, easy riding, thoroughgoing dependability, and, by all means, operating and maintenance economy.

These values are the direct result of materials and workmanship and a wealth of engineering ability and experience that is not surpassed in the industry.

Therefore be prepared to judge the good Maxwell by standards you have been accustomed to apply to cars of much higher price. Even then, the good Maxwell will give you a genuine surprise.

TRAFFIC PROBLEM NEARS SOLUTION

Engineers Providing Extra Highways for Cars on Parallel Routes

larger towns and cities and leave streets free to necessary local traffic.

Bridge Over Hudson

An excellent example of the results to be obtained is shown in the building of the vehicular bridge across the Hudson at Peekskill and the construction and connecting of the roads leading to it. This series of highways and the bridge when completed will provide a through route between New England and Northern New York and the South and West which will make it unnecessary to come into New York City at all. It will give a route from seashore cities as far south as Greenwich and Stamford to New Jersey, Pennsylvania and the South, and by way of Middletown and Binghamton to Pittsburgh, Buffalo and the West.

In another section of the country, the toll bridge at Tampa will shorten the route to St. Petersburg and other Gulf towns materially and provide splitting of traffic which now must be routed around Tampa Bay. Similar projects are being outlined by engineers and highway builders in a score of other districts. The double decking of roads, streets still remains to be attempted and probably when it is given a trial it will be confined to the narrow city streets but the building of highway octaffs and parallel routes will increase steadily from this time on, according to experienced highway constructors.

Traffic at Night

Night traffic is being made more safe and expeditious by stringent regulations as to lamp and headlight equipment and to proper focusing of headlight lenses. Investigation has shown that in some districts at least 40 per cent of the machines are improperly equipped to comply with legal requirements.

Efforts are also being made to check careless and unnecessary sounding of horns and sirens. In Philadelphia arrangements have been made to arrest persistent noise makers under a charge of disorderly conduct and motor clubs and trucking firms are being asked to aid in the campaign.

Iowans Doubt Stories Southland Depression

no depression so far as you are concerned. If the people back in Iowa and other middle western states could come out here repeatedly, as I have done, they would stop running down Southern California—because they would realize they are wasting their breath.

"And, by the way, the better class of people back in Iowa take that talk with a pinch of salt. They know Southern California couldn't be so well advertised without having the goods. The people who are doing the talking are jealous, if I must tell the truth about my native state.

Money Tied Up

"It is true that general conditions in your country have been a little slow, the last few months. The reason is that the middle west has been hard hit. I don't mean so much we haven't been able to send you the tourists to quite the extent you had hoped, while that is true. What I mean is that there are living in Southern California thousands of Iowans who have money tied up in mortgages back in the 'Hawkeye' state. Of late the farmers have not even been able to meet the interest on these loans, let alone pay them off. As a consequence some of your good citizens have been pinched for ready cash and as a result have been forced to rein in on their pocketbooks.

"All prospects indicate the middle west is to have bumper crops this fall. That will give the farmers money with which to settle their obligations. Interest on mortgages will be paid up and many loans retired. This will give thousands of former middle westerners now living in Southern California the capital with which to resume the activities they have been forced to curtail. I look to see this fall and winter in your country, as well as in ours, one of great prosperity.

$10,000 Snow Fund

"And don't forget this, Spencer," said Mayor Louis E. Roddewig of Davenport to his old friend, Mayor Spencer Robinson, of Glendale, as he stepped aboard the train. "We have to appropriate $10,000 every year for the purpose of removing the snow from our city streets. You folks out here could shovel a lot of sunshine with that!"

Mrs. L. W. Sonntag of 119 South Glendale avenue, a sister of Mayor Roddewig, and the advance guard of the family in Glendale, waved good-bye to her brother, Mrs. Roddewig and their little daughter, Elsa Jane, as the train pulled out of the station.

Want 'Silk Hat Bandit' To Face Trial In L. A.

LOS ANGELES, July 31.—A fight has been launched by Los Angeles county authorities to bring James L. Edwards, variously known to officers as the "silk hat bandit," "the foothill bandit" and "the gold tooth bandit," back to Los Angeles from Sacramento for trial on charges of having committed two murders and many holdups and attacks on women.

London has 200,000 visitors a day.

POLICY EFFECTS AUTO ECONOMIES

Dodge Brothers Adherence to One Style of Models Pleases Buyers

It is quite evident from the comments of buyers, according to R. E. Corrigan, proprietor of the Dodge Brothers' agency at 116 West Colorado street, that the public appreciates the significance of Dodge Brothers' policy of making constant improvements in their motor cars instead of changing models every year.

Magazines, newspapers and bulletin boards everywhere are reminding the people this month that this policy continues to prevail and that they may buy Dodge Brothers' cars without fear of seeing a new and entirely different model put on the market soon after they take possession of the present type car.

"This serves as a wholesome reassurance to prospective buyers. They dislike the idea of buying a car today and finding a month or so later that it is an obsolete model. And it is only natural that they should. The depreciation loss is out of proportion for a few months' use. Moreover, most people like to be up-to-date in their motor equipment and if they wish to follow their desire in this respect they must accept this sharp depreciation loss."

STUDEBAKERS SET MILEAGE RECORD

Big Sixes Average 122,589 Miles Each and Still Are Going Strong

What is believed to be a world's record in motor car endurance has been achieved by 218 owner-driven Studebaker automobiles in piling up a total of 26,724,420 miles in every-day service, according to an announcement today by Stephen C. Packer, local Studebaker dealer, 245 South Brand boulevard.

"After an extensive investigation among motorists," said Mr. Packer, "we find that American motor cars today cannot be equalled for service through a long period of years.

"For instance, records show that 218 Studebaker Big-Six passenger cars, all in regular every-day service, have traveled a total of 26,724,420 miles, and are still going strong. These records have never been equalled, so far as I can learn.

"Popular belief fixes the life of the average motor car at six years. At 6,000 miles a year—the average yearly mileage—this would be only 36,000 miles. And yet these 218 Studebakers to date show an average mileage of 122,589 miles each. On the basis of the usual estimate, these cars have averaged around twenty-two years of customary service in five years, and they are still on active duty daily."

AUTO IS TESTED ON ECONOMY RUN

Willys-Knight Non-Stop Car Faces Varying Traffic Over Long Grind

Latest reports by "Knight-O-Gram" of the performance of the Willys-Knight car being driven through Southern California on a 20,000-mile non-stop test run reveal an economy performance that is considered remarkable by automotive authorities, according to B. W. Sloan, 905 South Brand boulevard, local dealer.

Running in three shifts over three distinct routes which combine traffic driving, grades, and every other normal touring condition encountered by the average motorist, the Willys-Knight Non-Stop Car is averaging nearly 4,000 miles per week.

"The first 3,770 miles of continuous running, night and day, it consumed 193 gallons of gasoline, 9 quarts of oil, only three pints of water, and made an average of 19.3 miles per gallon of gasoline," says Mr. Sloan.

Pilots Estes, Potts, Purcell and Jordan report that the car is running smoothly and is standing up under the steady grind in surprising fashion.

Gets Six Months for Stealing Auto Tire

LOS ANGELES, July 31.—Joseph Astengo was sentenced to six months in the county jail by Superior Judge Hardy for the theft of an automobile tire. Astengo confessed to the court that a party of two boys and two girls, of which he was a member, had an automobile, but it lacked one tire. Astengo, anxious to make the joyride a success, volunteered to get the tire. Police found him when he was stripping one off a parked automobile.

NEW TAX RULING AFFECTS DEALERS

Provisions for Taxation In New Revenue Act Are Told by Contractor

sale, by the mere installation of bodies on chassis, will not be considered manufacturers for the purpose of the tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1924 (there being no tax on complete automobiles as such), and will not, therefore, be entitled to purchase parts or accessories tax free under certificate, as they were permitted to do during the effective period of the Revenue Acts of 1918 and 1921. Parts and accessories, however, which were purchased tax free by dealers and others who had the status of manufacturers under the 1918 and 1921 Acts will, when sold by them after July 2, be subject to the appropriate tax imposed thereon under the 1924 Act.

All manufacturers or producers, therefore, who are not manufacturing articles with respect to which they will be liable to tax under the Revenue Act of 1924, but who have purchased chassis or bodies or other articles tax free under certificate prior to July 3, should take inventory of the stock so purchased, remaining unsold at the close of business on July 2, in order that they may be in a position to make proper accounting of the tax due on taxable sales thereof. Where a commercial body so purchased by a producer prior to July 3, is sold by him for more than $200 after that date, he will be required to pay the tax of 3 per cent on his selling price thereof, whether sold to a manufacturer, a dealer, or a consumer, and whether sold separately or as a part of a car assembled by him. Passenger car chassis and bodies which were so purchased will, when resold, be subject to a tax of 5 per cent of the full selling price, regardless of to whom sold, or whether sold as a part of an assembled car.

Auto Accessories

Tires, inner tubes, parts and accessories (other than chassis and bodies) which were so purchased will, when resold on or after July 3, be taxable at 2½ per cent, if sold to a person other than a manufacturer of chassis or bodies, or tires, inner tubes, parts or accessories, who furnishes a certificate covering his order.

All concerns which had the status of manufacturers under the Revenue Act of 1921, and who had on hand at the close of business on July 2, chassis, bodies, tires, inner tubes, parts or accessories which were purchased by them tax free in their capacity as manufacturers, must continue to make monthly returns until the stock is disposed of, and pay the tax on all taxable sales made by them of articles so purchased, even though after July 2, they do not manufacture anything with respect to the sale of which they are liable to tax. Chassis and bodies purchased under certificate prior to July 3 will be subject to the appropriate tax when sold on or after July 3, even though they may have been assembled into the form of a complete car prior to July 3.

BUICK TO ADHERE TO ENGINE TYPE

Time Tested Motors to Drive Newest Models, Asserts Glendale Dealer

"It is likely that none of the many rumors of late in the automobile world has been given more credence than that the Buick Motor Company was testing a new motor of a different type and that it would be offered the public in its new models this summer," says W. A. Tanner of Tanner & Hall, Ltd., 622 South Brand boulevard, local dealers. "How far afield the majority of such stories usually are, is plainly seen in Buick's announcement of its Standard Six models which, together with the larger Buick cars to be built this year, will be powered by the well known Buick valve-in-head engine.

"A view of these new cars likewise dispels another story that circumstances were going to cause Buick to make some material changes in the body lines and the general appearance of its models. All of which has been proven untrue.

"Getting back to the engine, anyone who is at all familiar with the policies upon which Buick has been making its cars for more than twenty years knows that no basic principle which has been used by Buick and not found wanting has been discarded. There are refinements and improvements season by season, it is true, when they are found to be advantageous, but only in such cases."

FINE POINTS OF MOON ARE SHOWN

Popularity of New Models Keeps Penn Salesmen Busy All Day

The welcome that has greeted the new Moon models since their introduction to Glendale motorists has kept the sales force of the Penn Motor company, 510 East Broadway, local dealers, busy every minute the salesroom has been open, according to Oscar Penn, the head of the firm.

"We are especially proud of the present line," says Mr. Penn. "Look at the Duco satin finish that won't wear off and that will keep its good looks indefinitely through any kind of weather and hard usage, consider the balloon tires that add much to comfort and that enhance the other Moon easy-riding features; and then take into consideration the safety furnished by the 4-wheel hydraulic brakes, of the Lockhead type, and see where your money can buy better automobile transportation anywhere."

The Penn Motor company is rendering its customers specialized service on brake equalization, carburetor adjustment and an all-round analysis of motor troubles by a corps of experts.

OFFERS HINTS ON AUTO'S PURCHASE

Specifications Are Not Sole Guide In Buying Car, Declares Clark

"Many automobile buyers purchase a car solely by the specifications that they read in the advertisements, without taking into account any of the other more important factors that are to be considered in buying a car," says Lyman P. Clark, of the Glendale Motor Car Co., 124 West Colorado street, Maxwell and Chrysler distributors.

"But there are other points to be considered. Is the car sold by a dealer who is equipped to render service on the car after it has begun to undergo the strain of driving? Is the car one that is fitted to deliver the best service to its owner in his own locality? Will it give the mileage the owner has the right to expect?

"A shrewd buyer considers mainly the conditions under which his car will be used, and local responsibility and serviceability are two of the most important features to be looked at. The car that is backed by an adequate and reliable dealer is the one that he should buy, irrespective of any sentiment that he may have in the matter, and the method of buying a car for its parts is one that cannot always be relied upon."

Francy-Johnson Wedding Will Be Solemnized At Methodist Church Tonight

Friends from Glendale and other Southern California cities have been bidden by Mr. and Mrs. David Francy of 136 North Kenwood street, to the marriage tonight, Thursday, July 31, 1924, of their daughter, Eloise G. Francy, to Lester L. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Johnson of Siskiyou.

The wedding will take place in the First Methodist church on North Kenwood street at East Wilson avenue, with Dr. H. I. Rasmus, pastor, officiating. The vows will be taken at 8 o'clock.

Bridal music is to be given by Mrs. T. W. Randall, organist; Miss Gladys White, vocalist and pianist; Miss Genevieve Mulligan, violinist.

Four Bridesmaids

The bridal party will include a group of Miss Francy's relatives and close friends. There will be four bridesmaids, Misses Evelyn Ashman, Bertha Williams, Helen Stanley and Miss Francy's cousin, Miss Maude Francy. Miss Roma Staub, Miss Francy's niece, will attend as maid of honor. Ruth Herman is to be the little flower girl.

Miss Francy will be given in marriage by her father.

Harry Francy, a brother of Miss Francy, will serve Mr. Johnson as best man, while the ushers will be George Stanley, Dean Williams, Mark Francy and Edward Moniot.

Following the church service seventy friends will be received at the Francy home to greet Mr. Johnson and his bride. The company will come from Glendale, Los Angeles, Pasadena, Van Nuys and other nearby cities.

The young couple are to make their home at 645 West California avenue, where Mr. Johnson has built a bungalow home.

Many Friends Here

After a residence of fourteen years in Glendale the Francy family has countless friends, who will attend the wedding. Miss Francy attended Glendale schools, graduating from the Glendale Union High school in 1921. Later she took up library work and made many friends during her association at the public library. During the past year she has been assistant in the offices of Dr. F. R. Gartley and Dr. C. M. Conklin.

Mr. Johnson, who came to Glendale three years ago from his home in Northern California, is a veteran of the world war. He served for twenty months in the aerial branch of the U. S. Army and during that time spent fifteen months overseas.

PACKARD'S SALES HIT HIGH LEVEL

July's Figures Set Largest Month's Total Since Agency Opened

According to W. H. Daniel, manager of the Dixie Motor company, 1129 South Brand boulevard, Packard dealers for Glendale, this current month of July has been the best in the history of the local agency. A total of seven Packards have been sold this month, which is an enviable record for this high-grade car.

A large addition is being built on the rear of the Dixie Motor company's building to house additional service equipment and Mr. Daniel states that when this is completed there is not a service that cannot be attempted and taken care of for Packard owners.

Since opening the agency in Glendale one year and two months ago business has gone right ahead and each month has shown conclusively that there is a place in Glendale for the better class cars, he states.

SYNOD MEETINGS AT CHURCH CLOSE

designated by it as mobilization day, and

"Whereas, such action would unquestionably be construed by other nations as a menacing and warlike gesture, thereby hindering plans looking forward toward world peace, and a disarmament program, and believing that it is in your control to countermand such an order,

"Therefore, while favoring a minimum degree of preparedness consistent with sound national defense, we earnestly beseech you, if press reports are correct, to use all the powers at your command to rescind such order of the war department.

"May we take this opportunity to assure you of our hearty endorsement of your support of the permanent court of international justice; and to express the hope that the day is not distanct when we shall be an active participant therein."

Home in Pasadena

In presenting the report of the special committee on the proposed ministerial home in Pasadena, James Marwick, of Santa Barbara, said arrangements had been made for securing the property on the payment of $2000 in ten days, $8000 in sixty days, $10,000 in six months, and a mortgage of $40,000 on the property. The committee, headed by Dr. W. S. Young of Los Angeles, stated clerk of the synod, recommended the acquisition of the property.

Dr. J. K. Hamilton, chairman of the committee on place of next meeting, read the report of that body, recommending that the 1925 synod be held in Oakland at the First Presbyterian church. Hollywood and Berkeley made strong bids for the synod, Dr. Hamilton said. At one time it was suggested that the synod be held in Hollywood, but the custom which has been followed for years, to alternate between the north and south, prevailed, and the committee recommended Oakland, he said.

Inasmuch as the delegates to the synod of Arizona said they would meet with California next year if the synod were held at Hollywood, Dr. Hamilton said the Oakland First Presbyterian church would compensate the Arizona delegates for the difference in transportation if they came to Oakland.

It was suggested that the next synod be held July 16 to 23 but the time of the meeting was left open, and the dates will be decided by a committee on arrangements, to be appointed later by Moderator Briegleb.

Action was taken on the resolutions offered yesterday by Dr. Oxtoby, secretary of the committee on Christian education for the synod of California, dealing with moral reform and welfare. The resolution suggested:

National, state and local control of motion pictures. This is to be in the form of a more strict censorship, Dr. Oxtoby said, and was to prevent demoralizing pictures being shown, especially before children.

Appointment of prohibition officials, both state and national, be taken out of the political category, and out of politics entirely. The greatest drawback to the enforcement of the prohibition laws, Dr. Oxtoby said, was the fact that agents are afraid to do their duty in many cases for fear the "political axe" will fall.

Eighteenth Amendment

More strict enforcement of the eighteenth amendment, and calling upon the people of the United States to observe this law the same as any other law on the statutes. It is a law, regardless of how well it is liked or disliked, Dr. Oxtoby said, and if it is not enforced, it should be wiped off the books, and a prohibition law that would prohibit substituted.

Uniform divorce laws in the United States. This should be accomplished, Dr. Oxtoby said, by an amendment to the constitution. Under the present system, a person may be divorced and free in one state, but a bigamist in another state if he or she remarries. This lack of uniform divorce law is one causing considerable trouble and is lowering the standards of marriage, one of the most sacred institutions of the land, he said.

More adequate laws for the suppression of drugs and narcotics, and measures to stop the growing use of these things. Many high school students today are drug addicts, Dr. Oxtoby said, because it is so easy to obtain narcotics. It is one of the most deplorable conditions among young people today, he said.

Cigaret Smoking

Curb the growing tendency of cigaret smoking among children and women. Children can not be taught the fact that smoking is harmful, he said, if the parents use tobacco in the homes, at the clubs, and even on the street.

Dr. Young, stated clerk, announced the final roll call showed 439 accredited and commissioned delegates present at the synod. Of this number 335 were ministers and 104 were elders.

Resolution of thanks for the people of Glendale and all who had made the synod possible were passed by the synods of Arizona and California. Dr. Victor A. Rule, of Phoenix, appeared before the synod of California and read the resolution of thanks passed by the synod of Arizona.

Dr. Robert E. Speer, secretary of the board of foreign missions, addressed the Arizona delegates at the final business meeting of that synod this morning, outlining the place of the small church in the plans of the church and four boards.

Dr. Warren H. Landon, president of the San Francisco Theological Seminary, and Dr. William C. Covert, secretary of the board of Christian education, spoke before the delegates.

The Arizona delegates voted to meet with the California synod next year at Oakland, and hold the 1925 synod of Arizona at that city. One of the outstanding features of the closing business session was the perfect unity among the delegates, with no discussions or expressions along the lines of fundamentalism or modernism, all showing their desire to work for the church as a unit and not divided.

Meet On Diamond

At the baseball game held yesterday afternoon between the ministers of Northern California and the ministers of Southern California, the south was victorious by a score of 20 to 12. Players on the team representing the south included: Moderator Briegleb, Paul Elliott, Newell Elliott, J. G. Nelson, V. J. Steffan, J. K. Griffiths, Glenn Moore, S. H. Bailes, Samuel Sutherland, Ralph Isbell and C. H. Gaskell.

The baseball game between the California elders and the Arizona ministers was forfeited in favor of the Arizona ministers when the California elders failed to show up in time to play.

The synod came to a close about 1 o'clock this afternoon after Dr. Robert E. Speer had delivered the closing address, and the benediction had been pronounced. Late this afternoon many of the delegates from distant points were starting their homeward journey, while others will remain tonight to attend the Pilgrimage Play in Hollywood.

Star Shines

DOROTHY DORE, petite film luminary, was one of the attractions at the opening of the PIGGLY WIGGLY Store No. 1508, which was recently opened for business.

Reports of a Piggly Wiggly baby come from Los Angeles, where the 1508th Piggly Wiggly store in the country has been opened at Tenth street and Norton avenue. The opening of this store follows closely the opening of a Piggly Wiggly store in Santa Ana; however, the Los Angeles store being the youngest and smallest one, it is fittingly called the "Piggly Wiggly baby."

The receipt of a great number of letters requesting the establishment of a store in the Tenth street and Norton avenue section sent the Piggly-Wiggly officials scurrying to find a location. The only thing available was a small storeroom with a frontage of but fifteen feet. It was taken over, fitted up in regulation Piggly-Wiggly fashion and Los Angeles now has the only Piggly-Wiggly baby store in existence.

A feature at the recent opening of the Santa Ana store was the presence of Dorothy Dore, moving picture actress, who acted is hostess during the day.

Dr. Rasmus' Brother Succumbs Suddenly

Glendale friends of Dr. H. I. Rasmus, pastor of the First Methodist church, will be sorry to learn that he has received news of the sudden death of his brother, Jacob Rasmus, at noon Tuesday in Washtucna, Wash. Mr. Rasmus, who had been in poor health, was able to be about and on Dr. Rasmus' recent visit to Portland, Ore., the brothers met at the bedside of another brother, William, who has been seriously ill for a number of weeks. The three brothers were together several days in Portland and when Dr. Rasmus returned south he left Jacob Rasmus in Portland. Early this week he returned to his home in Washington and on Tuesday was taken suddenly ill and died at a friend's home.

Newcomer Purchases Stationery Business

Announcement was made today that the stationery store of C. H. Kirkman & company, 141 South Brand boulevard, has been sold to George Farries of Williston, N. D., who for more than thirty years was in the newspaper business in Williston and other Dakota cities.

Mr. Kirkman will go to Wheaton, Ill., to join his wife for a two months' visit and later return to California.

Mrs. Farries and one of four sons already are in Glendale with the new merchant and they have taken quarters temporarily at 526 West Lexington drive.

PLAN BANK COMBINE

LOS ANGELES, July 31.—Combining resources of $27,000,000, plans were completed here today for combining the Bank of America and the Commercial National bank.

URGES DOMESTIC RELATIONS COURT

Rotary Club Speaker Asks Support In Plans to Combat Divorce

"Divorce is not an evil in itself," Judge Ira F. Thompson of the Los Angeles county superior court told the Glendale Rotary club in a speech at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse this afternoon. "It is the manifestation of something far deeper."

Impressing upon his hearers the responsibility of parents toward their children, Judge Thompson urged that he be supported in gaining legislation which will create a domestic court in California for the reconciliation of couples who have offspring.

"Out of 2500 inmates in the Indiana state prisons it was revealed that only 456 had parents living or living together," the Judge quoted from statistics. This indicated a need for parental influence, he added, in curbing the so-called crime wave.

Cost of Children

"There should be a statute on the books that no divorce case involving the custody of minor children could go to trial until a referee has attempted a reconciliation and failed", said the speaker.

"From an economic standpoint it is necessary to keep the home together, for each ward of the juvenile court costs the county $1400 annually," he added.

The speaker was introduced by Attorney Owen C. Emery, who stated that as an appointee of Governor Richardson, Judge Thompson had shown that appointments now were based on ability and not on politics.

Picnic Committee

President J. Herbert Smith appointed J. I. Wernette, William Hunter, George B. Karr and Francis J. W. Henry on a committee to arrange for a picnic. Meetings of the Glendale club hereafter will be called at 12:15 in the clubhouse, instead of noon, it was announced.

Clark Dilley, furniture dealer, was introduced as a new member and the retirement of C. H. Kirkman, stationer, who has sold his business was announced.

A delegation from Inglewood, including H. B. Lawrence, Ed Hurres and James B. Stone, were among visiting Rotarians in addition to the following:

Rev. Lapsley A. McAfee and Claire Denman, Berkeley; Ed Nay and Frank Creller of Pasadena; Allin L. Rhodes, Newman W. Kelloway, F. S. Beavis, Ray H. Curtis and J. A. Patterson, Los Angeles; George H. Whistler, Palo Alto and Robert Krause, Tempe, Ariz.

SOUTHLAND CROP CONDITION SHOWN

Water Shortage Overcome By Pumps; Subdivisions To Restrict Farms

LOS ANGELES, July 31.—While the power shortage is bound to have its effect on agriculture as well as industrial and domestic life this year, the crops of Southern California are not suffering from a lack of water, as one might imagine after the drouth.

Instead, the tree crops appear to be in exceptionally good shape in Riverside and Orange counties. Small field crops in Los Angeles county are dry, lacking the luxuriant bloom, but comparing favorably with similar crops in the valleys in other years.

Underground Supply

Ranchers are hardest hit in the matter of maintaining their water supply, rather than a lack of it for bearing trees. Dry ditches are not uncommon, but pumps are working day and night, drawing on the underground reservoirs which cannot go for any period of years without replenishment.

The county farm adviser's office here declares that subdivisions will cut a greater dent in San Fernando valley products than the dry year. In Orange county the additional planting of walnuts, in Riverside citrus and grape land is being prepared, as well as in Imperial county.

NEW NASH TYPES TO BE DISPLAYED

Coming Out Party Planned For Debutante Model For August 7th

With the first official admission authorized yesterday by Donald C. Barbee, Nash sales company, 1234 South Brand boulevard, Nash dealers in Glendale, that the widespread rumors concerning a big 1925 model Nash surprise had a basis of truth, arrangements were begun for a big "coming out party" for the debutante models one week from today, Thursday, August 7.

Originally planned for today, the big opening date was postponed all over California in order that, when the crowds flocked to the showrooms, they might not be disappointed, it was explained by Mr. Barbee, who states that by a week from today, there will be types of the various new models in the local showroom, and possibly a limited number ready for delivery.

It has been current rumor among interested motorists of Glendale for the last two weeks or more, that what would possibly be considered the most sensational automobile announcement of the current year, would shortly be made by the Nash factory. This rumor has taken various forms, all sorts of stories having emanated from the "garage gossips."

Two New Models

While admitting that there are to be two new models, as is being announced in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post on the stands today, Mr. Barbee declared that he preferred not to discuss the various improvements for publication, but to wait and let prospective motor car buyers judge for themselves, whether or not the changes are not extraordinary.

"Nash has always been conservative," he said, "and because the Nash car is preferred by conservative people, who want to know whether a feature hailed as a good one is really good or merely new and novel, the factory has always moved cautiously. The consequence is that improvements are never experimental.

"In following the vogue for one particular feature, for instance, Nash engineers refused to let themselves be hurried into its adoption—it was only put on after years of experiment and now auto buyers may know that it is practically perfect."

Asked directly concerning the story that the Nash four wheel brakes will be different from usual equipment, Mr. Barbee merely smiled and said, "Wait till next Thursday—you'll see."

Coal mining authorities in The Netherlands estimate that the mines now in operation or being opened there, can produce 6,500,000 tons of coal in 1928, 8,000,000 in 1838, and 9,000,000 in 1948.

BOASTS SERVICE OF VETERAN CAR

Big Six Studebaker Carries Owner Easily on Long 1400-Mile Trip

Milton H. Berry, paralysis specialist of Hollywood, and a recent purchaser of a big Six Studebaker from the Packer Auto company, returned the first of this week from a 1400-mile trip to the northern part of the state. His itinerary included San Francisco, Sacramento, Santa Cruz and other coast points. During the entire trip the only stop necessary was made for replenishing the gas tank, no water nor oil being required.

"The remarkable performance of the car is amazing," he said, "when it is considered that this car was a used one and had 13,000 miles on the speedometer when I bought it. The car had required no mechanical attention of any kind, the valves not even being ground."

An average of 14.7 miles per gallon was sustained throughout the entire trip of 1400 miles, despite the fact that considerable mountain driving was done.

Fairs were established in France about 800 by Charlemagne, and encouraged in England about 1071 by William the Conqueror.

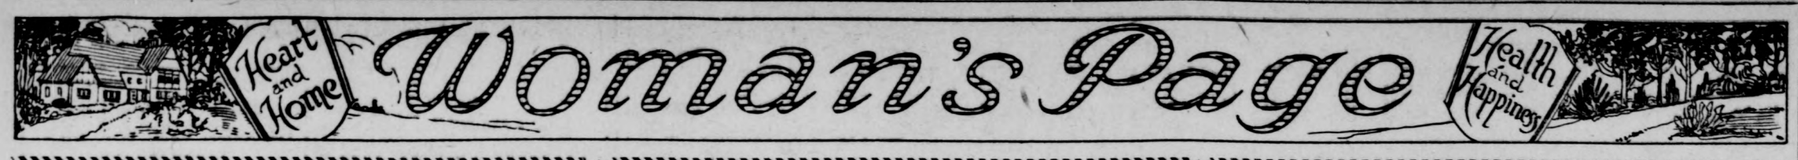
DAMAGED



Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

"Dear Dr. Peters:—Five months ago I began dieting, and up to the present time I have lost fifty pounds (I formerly weighed 200). I am 37 years old. I sent for your diet book and I have derived more benefit from that than anything else I have tried. I feel fine and very proud of my achievement. What I want to know now is: How can I keep my present weight? I want to know about how many calories a day I should eat to gradually get back to maintenance diet, so that I will not gain.

"Last week I thought I was increasing my calories only a very little, but, on being weighed today, I find that I have gained a little. It gives me the blues, for I am sure I have not eaten over 1500 or 1600 calories a day. In your diet book it says that for my height and line of work I should eat 2000 calories a day, but, from this week's experience I am afraid 2000 calories a day would cause me to increase.

"I am enclosing s. a. s. e. for your convenience if you will be so kind as to give me some advice on the subject. After going through the hard work that I have the past five months, I am sure I don't want to gain that flesh back again.—Mrs. C. M."

I am sorry, Mrs. B., that I cannot answer you personally. I get so many thousands of letters, it would be absolutely impossible.

I can well imagine your not wanting to gain. The normal weight varies a pound or so from day to day on account of the varying retention of water. If you eat anything salty, for instance, you will weigh more the next day, because the system has retained the water. If you find that you gain on 2000 C. a day over a period of time, then you must conclude that that is more than you need. Perhaps you are counting something a little too low. Or perhaps you are not yet down to normal weight, even with the loss of fifty pounds. If you have one pound in excess, it seems to act as an invitation for others to come on. We have had many letters from those who have reduced, who say they eat fairly liberally and don't consciously count their calories and still they don't gain. However, they have lost their appetites for the concentrated foods and don't overeat as they used to. If you prefer, you can go on one low calorie day (500 or 600 C's) a week. That will keep your weight down.

Mrs. T.:—No, the fact that you had an inflammation of the veins in the legs (the so-called milk leg) after the first baby, does not mean you will have it with another child.

The American canned goods are of excellent quality and are put up now under special precautions against the infection known as botulinus. They have the same caloric value as the fresh foods, but they do lose some of their vitamins; except tomatoes, which retain theirs, even when canned. Cabbage and spinach also retain a large share of their vitamins when cooked or dry. These you can get the year round. We also need vegetables and fruit for their mineral content and the roughage they furnish. These are not modified materially by canning.

Mrs. G.:—The condition of your breast since you weaned your baby is probably an inflammatory condition. However, you should see a competent physician about it. If you do not know any in your town, ring up the county medical society and they will give you a list.

D. C.:—We have had an article on eczema recently. You may have it by sending s. a. s. e. with your request. No, it is not contagious. You ask not to answer in the column, but that is the only way I can answer, D., because if there were 365 hours in a day, I would not be able to answer all my correspondence personally, as much as I would like to.

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

HEARING DELAYED ON IMPROVEMENT

Chestnut Street Property Owners Ask Council For Postponement

The hearing on the protests against the assessment district for the opening and widening of Chestnut street was held over for one week by the City Council this morning, at the request of Bert P. Woodard, attorney representing the protesting property owners.

All protests were denied on the assessment for the improvement of Park avenue. All protests were denied on the continued hearing of protests against the improvement of Kenilworth avenue and Doran street. Bids for the improvement of Viola avenue, Grover avenue and Stocker street were opened and read. An ordinance ordering the widening of Broadway was passed. Resolutions ordering the improvement of Kenilworth avenue and Doran street were adopted. A resolution of intention to improve Cerritos avenue was adopted.

A resolution was adopted granting A. J. Van Wie, city clerk, a vacation of twelve working days. Following the open session, the council met with Benjamin F. Dupuy, city engineer, as a committee of the whole, for consideration of plans now being prepared by the engineering department for an assessment district covering the improving of Sycamore Canyon road.

WARNS CHECK ON USING OF POWER

Superintendent Diederich In Plea to Cut Down on Electrical Demands

For the past two weeks consumers of electricity in Glendale have been exceeding the quota allowed by the Southern California Edison company, declares Peter Diederich, superintendent of plant and production. The company will check again at the end of this week and if it is found that the 25 per cent cut is not being made, action may be taken to enforce conservation.

"We are in the same position toward the Edison company that our consumers are toward us," Mr. Diederich says. "They notify us to make the necessary reduction and we in turn are compelled to notify our consumers. While more steam plants are constantly being brought into operation by the company, it is equally true that water reserves are being rapidly lowered and the condition is still one of the utmost seriousness."

Daylight Saving

Daylight saving, in the usual meaning of the term, as a means of aiding the campaign in charge of Power Supervisor H. G. Butler of the State Railroad commission, has failed to get a foothold in Southern California.

Santa Barbara, Ontario and Upland tried it without waiting for the general adoption which many hoped would come about through the governor's ukase, and gave it up as impracticable. Several other towns indorsed it but went no further.

But the idea shows vitality, and perhaps in the new form originating in Oxnard will "get somewhere." The Oxnard Chamber of Commerce has gone on record as in favor of saving an hour a day without disturbing the hands of the clock. Ranchers there who opposed the "orthodox" form of daylight saving, met with the Chamber and agreed to support the new suggestion.

Would Save Electricity

The idea is to let the clock have its own way, but begin and end the business day one hour earlier than at present. The plan would in fact make no change in the nocturnal habits of the farmers, but would operate merely on the opening and closing of stores in town.

In other words, it would be an urban and not a suburban measure. The farmers agreed to do their purchasing in town before 5 p. m., and at last accounts the merchants of Oxnard were being canvassed to see how many would fall in line for the proposition.

As the days shorten it would effect a saving in the use of electric light, for many stores begin to burn their lights by 4 or 5 o'clock.

Theatres Protest

Ranchers gave as their reason for not wanting to move the hands of the clock that they get up at daylight now, and if they had to get up an hour earlier they would have to burn electricity probably for an hour.

Theatre managers oppose daylight saving because, as they claim, people go to the theatre in the evening by the light outdoors and not by the clock. The effect would be, they say, to keep many people out of the first evening performance.

CHAPTER XVI

But when the room was darkened, and Dora was asleep, Hilary had lain awake, remembering every instant between ten o'clock and one, and suddenly discomfort had touched her; a rapidly deepening discomfort that had presently turned to an active shame. She had sat up straight in bed, unable to bear the suffocating weight that her humiliation had developed before her.

What had she said—what had she said—parting with Craig Spaulding at the front door? Hilary's face burned, she knew only too well what she had said.

Craig, in his finished manner, had thanked her for the enjoyable evening. It had been one of real delight to him, as she must surely realize.

And, elated with triumph and the exhilaration of the successful event, Hilary had answered, with a sudden air of intimacy—but what had she answered? Sick with self-contempt, she tried to remember the exact words.

Well, perhaps they had not been so bad, after all; they had all been laughing and excited, and the rooms got very hot, and nobody had been in a critical mood. Yet Hilary wished passionately, in the long, restless hours of this wretched night, that she had never heard of Craig Spaulding, or of Kronski, either, and that the evening had been a dead failure rather than that she should have this school-girlish stupidity of hers to remember!

"It wasn't anything, he knew I just felt friendly—if I had said it with everyone listening, it would have been perfectly simple!" she told herself. After all, he had shown friendship enough to come to see them—that was something——

"Probably he didn't hear me. Probably he never gave it another thought——!

"Oh, I can't bear it!" whispered Hilary, writhing alone in the dark night. "Oh, what possessed me! What on earth can he think of me? And how on earth can I go down to the office and face him tomorrow!"

Dora and Kronski had gone down the steps, into the cold midnight darkness; she and Craig had been in the doorway. Again she reviewed the whole episodes: his courteous farewells, her fatuous gush of absurdities in answer! What must he think?

What had he answered? It seemed to Hilary that she recalled a surprised and chilled expression on his face. Her heart was sick within her; and the long night was only a succession of restless dozes, wretched awakenings, and miserable remembering all over again.

It was dreadful to find Dora so unreasonable in the morning. Out of doors there was hard, freezing weather; the very disorder of the backyards was frozen into marble firmness, garbage tins were frozen; harsh sunlight that seemed without warmth struck coldly upon the steaming manure-pile outside of the Fosters' shabby old stable. A colored woman was gossiping with the man who was supposed to be cleaning the Fosters' porch.

Hilary sipped her coffee in silence; it seemed impossible that this forbidding, weary morning could usher in the long-awaited day of the Kronski concert. That Kronski should rush from his Philadelphia hotel to seek herself and Dora out, that Dora should play for him, and he for them, that he should promise to teach her himself, all this would have seemed a miracle of happiness only yesterday! But as it was Hilary found herself strangely apathetic toward Kronski; could she have blotted from existence those last unbearable words between herself and Craig, she would gladly have lost, with them, all the other events of the evening.

"I'll be home at noon, anyway, Butterfly. And don't kill yourself with the dishes and things. We can do them tomorrow if we have to. Get in your practice, dear, won't you?"

"I don't want to practice!" said Dora, drearily.

"Oh, darling, you must. Think what an incentive you have now. Kronski to teach you—think of it!"

"Yes, I know," Dora muttered, lifelessly. "I'm just sick of hearing how wonderful it's all going to be!" she added, rebelliously. "I'd like it to begin!"

"Well, didn't it? Didn't something begin last night?" Hilary asked, resolutely cheerful, although with a spasmodic thought at the same instant that last night had been a miserable failure.

"Gertrude Morrill—what does she know about music—she never practiced an hour in her life!" burst out Butterfly, bitterly. "And how does she go to the concert? Oh, in Grandpa's car, of course! They'll start about four, and have dinner at the Bellevue-Stratford and probably have the best seats——'

Hilary rose from her place, sighed, and placed her cup and plate among the heaped plates at the sink. She put away the sugar-bowl, filled both kettles with water to heat for the dishes, and put on her shabby coat. Dora watched her furtively. The little sister's heart was aching; she didn't want Hilary to go away in this depressed mood. But Dora was exhausted with excitement, fatigue, and the taste of a new and poisonous cup touched for the first time to her lips.

She was silent, and kept her bright head sullenly bent as Hilary kissed the crown of her hair for goodbye. She was alone.

The fresh cold air outside braced Hilary heartenly; so much so that she had not reached Spy Street before she wished that she had urged Butterfly to take a brisk turn about the block before beginning the morning's drudgery. But just some such vague resentment and fundamental discouragement as had kept Dora silent held her now, and she walked on to the office without interruption.

Fortune was with her. Old Kraut was there, and Craig was not. The mail came in, and when Craig did finally appear, at about ten o'clock, she could approach him quite naturally.

"Mr. Spaulding, is your uncle back yet? I think this is very important. That shipment to the Barbadoes man . . ."

Kraut pushed his old spectacles up on his bald forehead; Craig stood beside Hilary reading the unwelcome letter; he formed his lips for a whistle.

"Yes, my uncle's home. That's bad, isn't it? I'll get in touch with him, I believe he is coming down later. I may have to go into New York and see the Lambert-Holt people about that."

Hilary could sit down at her desk again, her heart quiet for the first time in some hours. She had seen him, and shown him a perfect cool, dispassionate front. Later, he said to her suddenly:

"Tired out, at your house, after last night?"

"Well, with tonight's dissipation stlil to come . . ." she returned, composedly. She picked up her telephone.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S ICE PUDDING

"What can we do to have some fun?" grunted Curly Twisty-tail to his little brother, Floppy, one morning.

"I don't know," squealed Floppy, flipping one of his ears up and down. "If there was school we would have some place to go, wouldn't we?"

"Who ever heard of school in vacation time?" laughed Curly. "It wouldn't be any fun."

"No, I guess it wouldn't," agreed Floppy. "Oh, I know what we can do to have some fun!" suddenly he cried.

"What?" asked Curly.

"Let's go over and see Uncle Wiggily!" squealed Floppy, and the two little piggie boys, scratching their rubbery noses in the sand to get off the mud in which they had been digging, started for the hollow stump bungalow of the rabbit gentleman.

"Hello, Uncle Wiggily!" they grunted, as they saw Mr. Long-ears out on his front porch, twinkling his pink nose.

"Hello!" answered Uncle Wiggily.

"Have you anything good to eat?" grunted Floppy, and then his brother said:

"Oh, you shouldn't have asked that. Mother told us we weren't to speak of anything to eat if we came to see Uncle Wiggily. She said he'd think we never did anything but eat."

"Oh, that's so—I forgot!" said Floppy. "Well, it's too late now, 'cause I already asked," he said. Then looking at Uncle Wiggily, he squealed: "Have you?"

"Have I what?" inquired the rabbit gentleman.

"Have you anything good to eat in your bungalow" went on Floppy. "As long as I asked I may as well find out for sure," he told his brother.

"Sure!" grunted Curly.

"I have in the icebox a rice pudding that Nurse Jane left for my lunch," said Uncle Wiggily. "She has gone down to the eight and nine-cent store to see about a new wireless set. You may have some of my rice pudding."

"Thank you," grunted Floppy. "You haven't any—now—any ice cream, have you?" he asked, wiggling his tail.

"No, I haven't any ice cream," said the bunny. "But if you will go to the cave of Mr. Whitewash, the polar bear gentleman, and get me some ice, I'll freeze the rice pudding and make it into an ice pudding, and that will be almost as fine as ice cream."

"Oh, goodie!" squealed the piggie boys. So off they ran to the cave of the polar bear gentleman, and he gave them a cake of ice wrapped in a cloth bag so they wouldn't freeze their paws.

On the way back to Uncle Wiggily's bungalow, carrying the ice, Curly and Floppy, all of a sudden, heard a rustling noise in the bushes. Then, all of a sudden, the Bob Cat jumped out at them.

"Burr! Burr!" howled the Bob Cat.

Floppy was frightened, but Curly drew back some of the cloth from the ice and pressed the cold cake against the nose of the Bob Cat.

"Wuff! Wuff!" sneezed the bad chap, as he felt the freezing ice. "Kerchoo!" he sneezed. "Oh, I'm catching cold!" And, disliking colds, the Bob Cat ran back to his den in the woods, taking with him his silly little tail.

Then Curly and Floppy ran to Uncle Wiggily, who said they were very brave little piggie boys, and he made the rice pudding into ice cream. It was very good, too. I wish I had some right now. But, of course, that isn't allowed. Anyhow, if the sugar spoon will give the honey bee some molasses so he can make a strawberry pie for the rubber ball, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's humpy jump.

LUIS VICENTINI'S HONOR IS GREAT

Only Man Who Ever Rocked Rocky Kansas to Sleep; Firpo, Spalla Meet

By FAIR PLAY
Special Correspondent of The Evening News, Copyright, 1924.

NEW YORK, July 31.—Much more interesting than the Weinert-Romero fight in New York on Monday night was the meeting after a long separation of Luis Firpo and Ermino Spalla at the ringside. They greeted each other like members of the same Camorra and nothing was said by either concerning a fight. Where were their press agents, or at least, was Spalla's publicity hound? As for Firpo, he needs no advertising. Spalla said he wanted Carpentier for Rome and Carpentier wanted him for Paris.

The low state of heavyweight boxing in England is indicated by the fact that the summer thus far has brought forth nothing of any note over there. If there has been any battles they have not been of sufficient importance to warrant paying the cost of from twelve to twenty words of cable.

Honors to Luis

When Vicentini's knockout of Rocky Kansas is discussed, someone always remembers that Benny Leonard was the only other fighter who ever turned the trick on Kansas. This occurred at Benton Harbor, Michigan, in 1922. In the interest of accuracy and to give Kansas all due credit, not forgetting Vicentini, Benny did not put Rocky to sleep. It was merely a technical knockout. Kansas broke his arm and had to retire. So the Chilean is really the only fighter who ever rocked Rocky to sleep.

The lightweight situation is full of troubles. Just now Vicentini seems to stand out as the sole baby doll. Pal Moran was talked of until Vicentini pushed him over. Bobby Barrett seems to have incurred the anger of the Philadelphia fans by the way he slowed up in his recent bout with Tendler, after a vivid start. Bobby does not usually do that sort of thing, and says Lew's dilatory tactics were responsible for the tame ending of the fight.

Then Jack Zivic, who was beginning to claim public attention as a lightweight hope, was beaten by Jack Bernstein, which ended him, while at the same time, the victory did not help Bernstein much, since the fans simply won't seem to hear of the Yonkers lad standing as a target for Benny Leonard.

WALKER-LEONARD SCRAP IN JERSEY

New York Will Be Left Out In Cold If Plans Now Formulated Carry

By FAIR PLAY
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924.

NEW YORK, July 31.—In spite of conferences, threats of suspensions and the like on the part of the New York boxing commission, the fact remains that the Walker-Leonard fight, set for August 21, at the arena on Boyles' thirty acres in Jersey City still stands as arranged.

Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, who has a patriotic pride, if nothing else, in having big battles staged in Jersey City, was visiting Mickey Walker at Rumson and all reports are that the best of understanding exists between them.

So any change that may come will swing upon the influence that the New York boxing commission can exert upon Benny Leonard and Billy Gibson. Gibson asserts that Leonard did all the arranging for this bout and that, as a fact, the managerial contract between them had expired.

Expect Big Noise

But there are times when the boxing commissioners are not stupid and they may evolve a scheme to impress upon Billy Gibson the fact that if he is not, indeed, in close cahoots with Leonard he had better get that way quickly.

One thing is sure, Jersey will not let this battle go without an awful squeal and while matters are upset at present, fans who are interested in the politics of the game would do well to keep their ears to the ground. There will come a time when it will not be necessary to do that to hear all the noise.

Spiring Job Given To Old-Time Player

An old-timer in Pacific Coast baseball league was signed yesterday by Harry Williams, Roy Brashear, who umpired in the Texas league until the climate disagreed with him, was given the position at Washington park. Brashear used to play second base for Vernon in the days of Happy Hogan. He was one of the hardest hitters on the team and ranked with Art Griggs as one of the best stickmen of the league.

TENNIS DOUBLES POOR, SAYS PERRY

Old Time Skill Lacking In This Branch of Game, Declares Writer

By LAWRENCE PERRY
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

SEABRIGHT, N. J., July 31.—Looking over the doubles teams now participating in the thirty-first annual tournament of the Seabright Lawn Tennis and Cricket club, the question rises whether doubles play as an art and as a popular element of tennis has declined with the years.

Certainly we have no doubles teams today who compare, at least in terms of popularity, with famous partners of past years. Tilden, the champion, seems to make little of doubles and whenever he can he is paired with his youthful protege Sandy Weiner. He used to pair with Vincent Richards, and on form, as well as in performance, they probably represent the best doubles tennis that the United States could put forth. But, from the standpoint of tactics at least, they are not so impressive. Williams and Dashburn, perhaps our best known doubles team, are fairly good, but no more. So with the Kinsey brothers.

Times Have Changed

In former times American players made a study of doubles play and this, according to the testimony of Tilden, is something that is not done today. We do not know the game, he says.

On the very courts at Seabright, where our present stars are disporting themselves in singles and doubles have been seen teams whose names will strike a reminiscent spark within the breasts of the old-time tennis enthusiast, who will recall the interest with which doubles play was followed, an interest, as it seems now, at any rate, hardly less keen than was manifested in singles play.

Leading Teams

Sears and Slocum, the great Dohertys from England, the Huntingtons, Pell and Behr, Hackett and Alexander, Ward and Davis, the Wrenn brothers, McLoughlin and Bundy, Little and Touchard and later Johnston and Griffin. These are some of the great teams that come to mind.

The furore which the Dohertys caused when they came here will be remembered, but as memory goes it seems to have been their doubles play, acclaimed as revolutionary in brilliancy and in science, that was most talked about.

When well played, doubles in tennis is a very spectacular game and the field for strategy, co-ordination and the like, is very large. It is regrettable that doubles play as a definite art has declined as it has.

TAGGING THE BASES

The Pirates opened an important series with the Giants with a 6 to 3 victory, the veteran Wilbur Cooper pitching air-tight ball after the first inning.

Burleigh Grimes, Brooklyn's spitball artist, blanked the Cubs, 6 to 0.

The Braves came out of their slump and took two games from the Reds. 3 to 0, and 6 to 3.

The Cardinals came from behind to beat the Phillies, 9 to 8. Hornsby's fourteenth homer and a triple play by the Cardinals featured.

While the Yankees were idle in St. Louis, Washington climbed to within half a game of second place by trimming the Tigers, 7 to 4. Three runs in the ninth did it.

Chicago was victorious, 7 to 6, in the battle of the Sox. Two Boston pitchers were knocked from the box in the eighth and ninth innings when the White Sox scored six runs. The last of Willie Kamm's five hits drove in the winning marker.

Cleveland beat the Athletics by late rallies, 5 to 4. Uhle's pinch single sent in the winning run.

Snodgrass Unable to Stop Furious Drives

SEABRIGHT, N. J., July 31.—Lucien Williams, former Yale captain and intercollegiate singles champion two years ago, furnished the only upset in the Seabright championship, defeating Harvey Snodgrass of Los Angeles in three sets. Snodgrass, who has been playing remarkable tennis since he left the coast, could not cope with his opponent's furious onslaught of drives.

Williams dropped the first set at 4-2 after being within a point of winning it no less than four times. Leading at 9-10, 15-14 with Snodgrass serving, Williams took the net position, forcing the Californian to put up a weak lob which Babe smashed severely. It appeared to be unreturnable, but Harvey managed to return it, Williams smashing the return out to the court.

The Chicago boy lost heart at this point and the set went to Snodgrass. While Williams appeared physically tired, his playing did not reveal it, and he annexed the next two stanzas, 6-2, 6-4.

The elimination of Snodgrass leaves two Californians in the semi-finals for this afternoon's play. William Johnston played championship tennis yesterday, never allowing but four games in the two sets.

Use Canadian Lumber Stock to Fill Orders

SEATTLE, July 31.—During the recent suspension of logging operations, the surplus supplies of British Columbia were heavily drawn on. Many American producers intend to resume operations at their camp and with more logs in the water, more sawmills will also resume, and the prospects seem good for normal milling operations.

SCOUTS TO LOOK OVER SOX SUNDAY

Major League Ivory Hunters To See Two Champion Teams In Battle

When the two championship teams meet here Sunday in the Pacific coast "little world's series," there will be two scouts from the major leagues looking the boys over. These ivory hunters will be on hand to witness the game between the Glendale White Sox, champions of the Summer league and challengers for the world's record in consecutive victories, and the San Diego Air Station nine, champions of the entire navy.

The scouts, according to advance dope, will be Jack Doyle, from the Chicago Cubs, and Charles Chapman, from the St. Louis Cardinals. They will be particularly interested in six Pale Hose players and three airmen, it has been learned. The local lads who will be subject to the close scrutiny of the scouts will be Shellenbach, Shields, Hirigoyan, Young, Dorman and Orsatt. On the airmen's team are Brown, Bedell and Branch, whom the scouts will watch.

Eyes on Glendale

The record of the White Sox, with twenty-five consecutive victories, has turned the eyes of the entire baseball world towards Glendale. The world's record is twenty-eight consecutive victories, and the pale hose crew is anxious to tie or surpass this mark.

From San Diego Sunday will come the champions of the navy, intent on stopping the forward march of the White Sox. The airmen have cleaned up on every team in the navy, either on the Atlantic or Pacific coast, and believe they can hang the old Indian sign on Carl Sawyer and his crew of champion ball players.

Elmer Reiger will do the hurling for the White Sox Sunday, with "Big Boy" Joe Sullivan standing behind the platter. Shellenbach will be at first, Sawyer at second, Shields at third, and Hirigoyen at short. Young, Dorman and Orsatt will be in the gardens. Branch and Johnson will be the mainstays of the airmen's pitching staff.

ANGELS EVEN UP SERIES, WIN 9-5

Use Three Umpires In Game As Tigers Defeated In Ninth Inning

LOS ANGELES, July 31.—Winning 9 to 5 the Angels yesterday evened up with the Tigers in a loose game with three umpires keeping the battling boys from starting any new riots.

Harry Courtney and Wee Ludolph pitched poorly for Vernon, the latter getting blamed for the defeat. Elmer Myers didn't do much better for the victors. Loose infield play on the part of Vernon, particularly McDowell, who juggled several perfectly good throws to first, was more or less responsible for the defeat.

A four-run rally in the ninth by the Angels sewed up the game. Penner is scheduled to oppose Root today.

The Seattle Indians scalped Salt Lake 12 to 0 with Vean Gregg pitching a shutout game yesterday.

Portland got four runs off Thompson in the first fifteen minutes of play and defeated Sacramento, 4 to 3.

Harry Krause pitched Oakland to victory over the league leading Seals, 6 to 4.

Murphy's Tent Show Pleasing to Visitors

Mrs. Lina B. Chandler and daughter, Miss Amy, of Kirkwood, Mo., who have been visiting for several weeks on the coast, left Tuesday for their home. They have made several visits to Glendale, having been entertained at luncheon by a cousin, Mrs. Fannie Jones, 208 East Maple avenue, and on another occasion were guests of A. Houston Jones at the Oakmont Country club. During their stay in Los Angeles they have visited Glendale once each week to attend a performance of the Murphy Comedians and on Monday, their last night before leaving, they were members of a party that attended a performance of these entertainers.

Upon one occasion the Chandlers were entertained at dinner in Los Angeles to be followed by a theatre party and upon being requested to state their preference for a show for the evening, insisted on motoring to Glendale and attending the tent show.

Why Do People Save Money?

ONLY a miser saves money for itself. To others saving is a means to an end—an indispensable factor in getting on.

It is the way to owning a home, to a start in business. It is a protection in adversity, a friend in need. It is contentment insurance and brings financial independence. Whatever money can buy may be had through systematic saving.

Opportunity knocks often, but unless you can entertain her, she goes elsewhere. The "entertainment fund" is your savings account.

We will gladly start your savings account, if you have none here, issuing you a Beneficial Term savings pass book, containing a conditional deposit of one dollar to your credit. Ask for it.

SAYS U. S. FATE IN PARENTS' HANDS

Grown Folk Must Teach Children Bible's Value, Asserts Speaker

The fate of the United States and the world at large lies in the hands of all parents, Rev. William C. Covert, D. D., secretary of the Board of Christian Education of the Presbyterian church, told delegates to the California and Arizona synod last night in an address delivered at the Glendale Presbyterian church.

Parents must teach their children the value of the Bible, must conduct the old-time family altar services, must continue the work of reading chapters from the Bible, and must teach their children the need of prayer, or the moral decay of ethical standards among children of high school age, which is now causing so much anxiety will continue until the nation's welfare tumbles, he said.

Must Start in Home

There is an atmosphere of uncertainty and unrest throughout the land today, he said, and it can be offset only by the return of the old-time solidified religious unity idea. This must start in the homes, he said, and declared the salvation of the nation and the future of the country rested in the homes and not in the hands of statesmen.

Preceding Dr. Covert's address, Harold Donnelly of New York City, head of the boys' work of the Board of Christian education, gave a short address. Mr. Donnelly is at the head of fifty-one young people's conferences this year.

"The boy is not interested in the church because the church is not interested in the boy," he said. The people must realize the responsibility for the boy rests on the church. A program of complete physical education for boys is needed in the church, together with adequate leadership."

The meeting last night was the final night session of the synod, which started last Thursday. Practically every seat in the church auditorium was filled, while many chairs were placed in the aisles and closer to the pulpit.

Rev. Guy L. Morrill gave his closing talk on "Stewardship," in which he summed up the salient points of his previous addresses and added a few hints, and Dr. John Timothy Stone, of Chicago, gave his closing talk at the vesper services held at the Central Christian church.

TENNESSEE BOYS ARE ENTERTAINED

Reunion of Old Friends Is Held as Party Halts On Tour of West

Miss Louise Lavison and her brother, Louis Lavison, 317 North Brand boulevard, entertained last night at the Alley Inn in honor of a party of old friends from their former home in Memphis, Tenn. The guests were Frank Hicox, Charles Boyle, Lee Saunders, Charles Metcalf, all students at the Ford-Kivington school for boys at Memphis, and Coach Aydelotte of that institution. The Lavisons came here from Memphis a year ago and have made Glendale their home.

The party is touring the west during their vacation and they have already visited a large part of the most interesting portion of western Canada as well as the national parks in the United States, and they are now making a flying trip to some of the interesting spots in California. They left last night for Coronado and San Diego, planning to return here Monday before starting for the Grand Canyon and the long trip back to Memphis by way of New Orleans.

The boys are traveling by automobile, camping out and roughing it. Although each of them is the son of wealthy parents they are under a pledge not to write back home for money during their vacation, and all expenditures are carefully noted by Coach Aydelotte and are taken out of the general fund.

"I wish to thank my friends who so loyally supported me in the recent contest for queen at the industrial exposition, and also wish to thank the Thursday Afternoon club for the lovely diamond ring given me as first prize."

Guilty on Charge of Obstructing Fire Car

J. L. Jacques of Los Angeles, arrested July 14, on a charge of failing to stop and give the right of way to a county fire vehicle, when the siren had been sounded, was found guilty yesterday afternoon in the Glendale police court, before Judge Frank H. Lowe. He will receive sentence Monday, August 4.

S. J. Flintham, county fire warden and county forester, appeared against him, with S. D. Turner, chief assistant forester. The testimony revealed that Jacques had nearly caused a serious accident, by failing to give right of way on San Fernando road, and by suddenly turning into Doran street, without a sufficient signal.

Mr. Flintham and Mr. Turner were returning to Los Angeles in their car at a high rate of speed when the truck pulled directly across their path, after they had sounded their siren, according to the testimony. They had to make the turn into Doran street and nearly wrecked the car, they said.

Holland Society to Hold Birthday Dance

Held to Higher Court On Bad Check Charge

Leo McGuire, son of Daniel McGuire of 1249 East Wilson avenue, was taken to the county jail yesterday afternoon, to be held for the Superior court, following his preliminary hearing yesterday morning in the Glendale police court, before Judge Frank H. Lowe, when five counts of forging fictitious checks were returned against him. George A. King of Glendale represented the defendant. Pierce Works of Los Angeles conducted the case for the state. McGuire was arrested on July 12, on complaint of local merchants that checks he had passed were worthless. He will be held under $2000 cash or $4000 property bail.

Ice Skate Fans to Meet Sunday Morning

The ice fans of Glendale are asked to be guests at Sunday's meeting of ice enthusiasts at the offices of the Los Angeles Ice Skating association at 1557 North Western avenue. The meeting will be called at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning.

It is the desire of the backers of the Los Angeles association to organize a skate club in Glendale in conjunction with similar clubs being organized in Long Beach, Hollywood and cities of the bay district.

Women are especially invited, as the backers are anxious to find out the real strength and interest of the women in ice sports. It is contemplated organizing a women's hockey team, providing the support warrants it.
